GRAND LODGE, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, HELD OPENING EXERCISES ON MONDAY

In Kingston High School Auditorium—Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield, Jr., Supreme Chancellor William Ladew, and Grand Vice Chancellor Drucker the Speakers—"Key of City" Presented to Pythians.

Following the custom initiated several years ago the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Domain of New York, held public opening exercises Monday evening in the auditorium of the Kingston high school, at which time Mayor Canfield presented the "key of the city" to the Pythians and assured them of a warm welcome from the residents of Kingston.

The evening was extremely warm, but this did not deter the delegates and their friends from attending the opening session, and when the exercises were called to order by William H. Stork, C. C., of Franklin Lodge No. 37, there was a large attendance.

The auditorium had been artistically decorated with the Pythian colors and emblems, and before the program opened the Imperial orchestra of this city rendered several popular numbers. That Pythianism stands also for cheerfulness was shown by the smiling faces of the delegates and their hearty welcome to friends they had not seen since the last state convention. It was a get-together meeting before the meeting was called to order by the chairman.

As Mayor Canfield, the grand chancellor of the order, was introduced he was greeted with applause that lasted for several minutes. The mayor was in unusually happy vein and said that the residents of Kingston were proud of their city and of its son, that he was unexcelled. Why we are proud of Kingston is shown by the dream one of our prominent citizens had the other night. He dreamed that he had died and was called before that Supreme Chancellor on high, and at the gate to the Golden City he was met with the question "Where came you from?" and he replied "Why, Kingston."

"What Kingston?" he was asked. "Kingston, N. Y.," he replied. "Then I am afraid you won't like it here," was the reply he received. While there are a number of Kingstons in this country of ours yet during the world war all letters addressed "Kingston U. S. A." were delivered here by the postoffice department.

Recently the Mexican government has been sending out communications and letters to the city, have received four that were addressed to "Kingston, U. S. A."

Mayor Canfield said that he had a number of communications from prominent men that had been received, but he had time to mention but a few. General John J. Pershing and President Warren G. Harding.

President Harding is a Pythian and has held important offices in that organization. He wrote that he was sorry that the duties of his office prevented his attendance and asked the mayor to present his sincere regrets to the delegates.

When General Pershing first received his appointment to go overseas in the late war Mayor Canfield said that the first communication the general received was one from the Pythian order offering him $50,000. Knights, and that number was exceeded by the members of the order who served the colors.

Communications were read as follows: General John J. Pershing: Extend my congratulations to the Knights of Pythias with the earnest hope that their good work may be continued in even a greater way than heretofore.

Governor Nathan L. Miller: Best wishes for the success of the convention. May the Knights of Pythias realize its best hope for greater strength and usefulness.

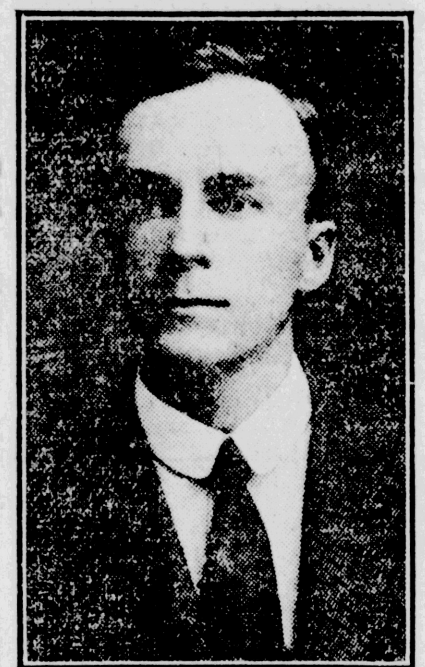

President Warren G. Harding: It is necessary for me to express to you as grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and also as mayor of Kingston, my sincere regret that it is impossible for me to attend your convention, because of the requirements of public business which are making by absence from Washington impossible except for the shortest time when absolutely necessary.

As a devoted member of the Knights of Pythias I would be very much pleased if acceptance were possible. Present my continued brotherly regards to all attending.

Governor Miller also sent his regrets at not being able to attend the session of the grand lodge, and his hope that the convention would prove an inspiring one.

he assured the mayor at the close of the week the "key" would be returned stainless.

After a well sung selection from the Kingston Quartet, composed of Messrs. Herman LaFour, Arthur Rifenbary, John T. R. Hall and Harry Clearwater, accompanied on the piano by W. Whiting, Frederick Lurgh, William Ladew, the supreme chancellor of the order, was introduced and was received with applause.

Mr. Ladew spoke most informally and reminded those present that the past year had been the most successful Pythian year in the history of New York state, and it was due to the work of Grand Chancellor Canfield. The highest record previous to Mayor Canfield's administration was that held by another member of Franklin Lodge, Samuel T. Hall, who was grand chancellor, and whose record stood for years, until it was smashed by Chancellor Canfield. Mr. Ladew closed with paying a high compliment to the members of the Pythian Sisters and the work they were accomplishing for the good of the order.

The program was somewhat shortened by the fact that Past Supreme Chancellor Charles S. Davis of Denver, Colorado, had been unable to reach Kingston in time for the meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Wright delivered the benediction.

After 50 Years of Business Supervisor Schermerhorn Sells 302 and 302½ To Allick Mollott And Will Curtail Activities.

Supervisor Charles A. Schermerhorn has sold his three story brick building known as No. 302 and 302½ Wall street, to Allick W. Mollott, the well known haberdasher and dealer in men's clothing, who occupies the ground floor.

Supervisor Schermerhorn who for fifty years has been one of the best known merchant tailors along the Hudson river, has retired from active business. He will, however, retain his quarters at No. 248 Fair street, where he has been located for several years and occasionally will make a suit for an old customer.

He considers, however, that after fifty years of hard work he is entitled to more recreation than he has had and hereafter will limit himself to doing work only for customers of long-standing.

The property bought by Mr. Mollott always has been an excellent business stand. Mr. Schermerhorn conducted his tailoring business there for many years. Later he leased the lower floor to the United Cigar Stores Company, which occupied it until its removal to its present location in the Forman building, corner of Wall and John streets.

Besides Mr. Mollott's store, the building is occupied by the barber shop of Frank L. Miller and by Drs. H. F. and H. R. Meinhardt.

PYTHIAN SISTERS OPEN CONVENTION

The annual convention of the New York State Temple of Pythian Sisters opened in the Elks' lodge room at the Elks' club house on Fair street this morning and will remain in session until Friday. The business sessions of the Pythian Sisters will be held at the same time as the sessions of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias in the same building, and they will participate in the numerous gaieties which have been planned by Franklin Lodge, No. 37, K. of P. for the entertainment of all guests. The headquarters of the Pythian Sisters are at the Eagle Hotel.

The Pythian Sisters' session began at 9:30 o'clock, and the opening ceremonies were attended by nearly all the representatives. Practically every Temple of the Pythian Sisters in the state is represented by one or more members. Emma M. Tower of Gloversville, grand chief of the organization in New York state, presided and the opening session found all grand officers filling their stations.

Supreme Chief Minnie Bunting of Oklahoma arrived at noon and will attend all the sessions of the Sisters.

A feature of the morning session was the conferring of the Grand Temple degree on forty candidates. Mrs. Tower during the morning read her annual report of the year's work.

SOVIETS CENTER ON FAMINE FIGHT

Plight of Millions of Children Especially Pitiful—Lenine Announces He Will Accept Relief From Every Source—American Quakers Have Been Aiding.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Riga, July 26.—Famine and cholera are depopulating Soviet Russia and all government projects except those for the relief of the people have been ordered stopped.

The soviet at Moscow is planning to evacuate all the children from the Volga region, according to information received here today. It is a difficult problem, however, and warning has already been given by a writer in the official Izvestia that the transportation of the children may mean certain death because of the scarcity of food, pollution of water and the absence of clothing and shoes.

The supplies brought into Russia by the American Society of Friends (Quakers) have been exhausted. The Quakers have been invited by the Soviet, however, to extend their work.

All offers of help for Russian children from abroad will be accepted, Lenine declared at Moscow. The plight of the Russian children is terrible. The death rate of children is much larger than that of adults. Already children are starved, showing the evil effect of the 1920 famine.

Newspapers just received here from Moscow report the first donations to the central committee relief fund. Rice, dried fruits, cocoa, bread and sugar were sent from Saratov. The Bransky regiment contributed a month's pay. The red militia is giving bread from its meager rations.

An exodus of farmers has begun from the Volga region and the soviet government is attempting to turn the starving peasants away from central Europe.

A Communist call has been issued for all members of the party to the relief of the famine and disease. All are asked to contribute something. The nation's resources will be mobilized.

The soviet believes that it is important to control immigration as one means of fighting absolute starvation.

A produce tax is being put into effect. Public proclamations lay stress upon the declaration that failure to pay the produce tax will bring about collapse of the government. The tax must be paid before August 15.

In order to insure a crop next year the government is attempting to prevent the farmers from leaving the rich grain belt of the Volga. It is feared that if an unrestricted wave of emigration sets in it will spread panic throughout the entire country. The Volga is the greatest grain producing part of the country, and if it is deserted Russia will be without hope next year.

Enforcement Now From N. Y.

The office of the Federal Prohibition director at Albany will be closed today and all employees moved to New York, this being the last day of business there. This office which had jurisdiction over all the counties of the state excepting the five boroughs of New York and Westchester county, was regarded as one of the most important in the country. The reason for moving the office staff to New York is to have all the work of the department centralized, Judge Hart, the Prohibition chief, has declared.

The accident occurred on the road between Pleasant Valley and Poughkeepsie. Mr. Ritchie was on his way to Poughkeepsie to complete the purchase of the Rochdale mill property.

IRWIN PRODS CITY DEMOCRATS

A preliminary meeting of Democrats was held at the city court room at the city hall Monday evening to discuss the all-important question as to what steps shall be taken to rehabilitate what was left of that political party in this city, and who shall be selected to sacrifice themselves for nomination as candidates of the party for mayor, city judge, alderman-at-large, aldermen and supervisors. It was an executive session to which the members of the city committee and other Democrats had been invited by word of mouth requested to come and about sixty attended. Roscoe Irwin, former mayor, city recorder and internal revenue collector, presided and Isidor Sampson acted as secretary. Among those whom a reporter of The Freeman noticed going into the meeting room were City Judge Schirck, City Marshal Arthur Rice, Robert J. Howard of the county board of elections, Supervisors Joseph Schuler and Charles Partian, Emanuel Metzger, Harry Sleight, John J. Cuneo, Hugh F. Connelly, Joseph S. Pessenar, Dr. John F. Larkin, former city treasurer Joseph A. Sheppard, Dr. W. E. E. Little, who has been mentioned as being likely to have thrust upon him the Democratic nomination for mayor this fall, Richard Murphy, Edmund J. Brett, Charles W. Dunbois, Eugene Carey, and others of the faithful.

From what could be learned Chairman Irwin made a straight-from-the-shoulder speech in which he characterized the city committeemen as indolent and laggards and that the Democratic party in this city and county had simply gotten to be an anachronism to the Republican party. That nobody had done anything to help keep the party together, during the past six years, and the work of getting up petitions and looking after all the details he had been forced to attend to. He wanted the ward committeemen to call a meeting this week of what Democrats there were in their wards and discuss with them the best men to nominate for supervisor and alderman, and to suggest whom they thought would make the strongest candidates for the city offices after a consensus of opinion was had. That there should be persistent work done and unless personal efforts were put forth there would be no success, and he considered there was an excellent opportunity to elect the tickets in November. Emanuel Metzger and Harry Sleight, a former supervisor of the Second ward also spoke.

The old ward committeemen promised to do what Irwin had suggested and take action to begin anew to build up what was left of the party in their wards and appoint a new ward committeeman to be a member of a new city committee and report at an adjourned meeting to be held next week.

WALTON MAY SUCCEED LUSK

As Senate Majority Leader—Disclosures In New York Cause Most Of Lusk's Republican Colleagues To Believe That He Has Served His Usefulness And Ulster Man Is Logical Successor.

Through the efforts of friends in the senate, Senator Charles W. Walton of this city may become majority leader of that body to succeed Senator Clayton R. Lusk, who was elected to that position last winter despite Senator Walton's seniority of service.

Senator Lusk, it is said, may be asked to resign the leadership as the result of disclosures before the Meyer legislative investigating committee in New York city on Monday, which testimony was given that the New York city detectives had presented Mr. Lusk with a chest of silver worth $1,131.

The New York Times of this morning says that two separate movements against Senator Lusk were started—one to bring about his retirement as a member of the already sponsored by several Republican senators, to ask for his resignation as majority leader of the senate, a position second in importance only to that of governor of the state.

The movement to bring about Senator Lusk's resignation as majority leader, says The Times, developed the more easily because most of his Republican colleagues were opposed to him for that post, and his election was brought about by the insistence of Governor Nathan L. Miller, formerly from Senator Lusk's home town, Cortland, who is said to regard Lusk as a sort of protégé. Most of the Republican senators, says The Times, favored Senator Walton, considering him entitled to the place by ability and length of service. It was said that practically all the senators who seek to bring about Senator Lusk's deposition would favor Senator Walton as his successor.

REPORT OF GRAND CHANCELLOR CANFIELD TO PYTHIAN CONVENTION

Quota of New Members Set For His Administration Shown To Have Been Secured—Number of Recommendations To Improve Already Flourishing Domain of New York.

Pythians in the domain of New York now number 30,000, a gain of over 5,000 during the past year, and eight new lodges were installed. These and other facts of interest to Pythians as showing the flourishing condition of their order in this territory were presented in the report of Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield, Jr., to the 53rd annual grand lodge convention at the Elks' clubhouse today.

The report reads as follows:

July 25, 1921.

To the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Grand Domain of New York:

My Dear Brothers: We are informed that a year is the period of time in which the earth completes a revolution around the sun and in which the seasons go through their changes.

I have completed a revolution or circuit around the Pythian center or axis of the Grand Lodge year. I have passed through the cycle of events and seasons which are associated with the Grand Chancellorship. Yet, the time seems to have been too short and brief to have maintained the standard desired and to have attained all results expected. All I can state is that I really tried to give my best.

SUPREME CHANCELLOR.

We are greatly honored in having William Ladew of our own Domain as Supreme Chancellor. It is an honor paid him by the Supreme Lodge because of distinguished Pythian service he has rendered, the high mentality and great executive capacity with which he is endowed and which he has ever freely and willingly given to the Order, and his active fidelity to the Order covering a period of over forty years. The great desire of the Pythians of New York was gratified and their hopes brought to a realization when he was installed in that high and important office. May all of us remember this coming year the high honor conferred upon us, and prove our claim and right to it by renewed support of the Supreme Chancellor.

SUPREME VICE-CHANCELLOR.

Our Order is to be also honored in the future in having the personage of George C. Cabell as our next Supreme Chancellor. He possesses all necessary mental qualifications, together with a geniality and a warmth and kindness of disposition that will help him smooth some of the roughness that comes in the path of any high office. He will be a worthy successor to the present Supreme Chancellor, William Ladew, and his immediate predecessor, Charles S. Davis, and those who served so well in the past.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS.

We can have great and pleasing expectations for the coming year. We can have not only a livable desire for the achievement of our objects, but a desire that is obtainable. We can happily indulge and entertain a strong hope for superior success during the next administration. We cherish strong hopes and look forward with trustful and eager expectations that will be met.

The reason for such confidence in the future of Pythianism in our Domain is the faculties, the power, the invigorating motives and the earnest and appealing personalities of our Grand Lodge officers who have so ably supported me and who will continue to bear the leading allotments of service.

COMING GRAND CHANCELLOR.

Our coming Grand Chancellor, Morris A. Drucker, has shown a striking exemplification of all proper and requisite Pythian attributes necessary for the high office. He is endowed with those ideas and qualities which go with personality. He has an earnest energy, a fidelity and loyalty based upon his love for the Order, and the executive ability, to make the coming year the greatest in this Domain. He has worked indefatigably and has more than earned the higher office he will soon fill. All success to him and his administration.

ALONZO BEDELL.

Our Grand Keeper of Records and Seal represents the height of loyalty and the personification of faithfulness to the Order. His office is a most important one and involves many functions of which very few members have any knowledge. Yet, he performed all services in a diligent and painstaking manner, and in such an efficient manner as to merit our respect as well as approval. I owe much of the success of my administration to him. Our loving regard for him will ever grow more and our kind esteem for him will never grow less. The Order needs him. May we continue to have the benefit of his experience and judgment for many years to come. May his shadow never grow less.

DEPUTIES GRAND CHANCELLOR.

The Deputies Grand Chancellor during the past year have been Pythian zealous. They have assiduously and unremittently carried on the duties of their important office. They have been absorbed in devotion for the cause of our Order. Each is deserving of having his name mentioned personally with a bill of particulars of work accomplished, of service rendered and of results obtained. Space will not permit of such deserving commendation being bestowed individually as it would involve a history of the efforts, labors and accomplishments of the past year instead of a mere report. So I present each and every Deputy Grand Chancellor to the Pythians of our Domain as worthy of our favorable and special attention and unqualified approbation. I do not mention you, Brother Deputy Grand Chancellor, from the viewpoint of mere courtesy, but from the standpoint of gratitude, kindly remembrance and brotherly good will.

PYTHIAN SISTERS.

If we follow the processes of induction we must conclude that what has been true this past term will be true during the coming term. It is a process of demonstration which must be accepted.

The Pythian Sisters, from Grand Chief Emma M. Tower to the most humble member, have been devoted in attention and constant in application to the great Order they represent. They have worked and labored with loyal diligence. They have pursued their objects with a faith and a courage and have completely fulfilled all expectations. We express our commendation to them with the thoughts that breathe gratitude. The future promises much for the Pythian Sisters. I hope that it may be the privilege in the future of many more Knights sharing in the work to turn those promises into a certainty.

UNIFORM RANK.

The Uniform Rank is an important branch of our Order. It assumes the character of a post-graduate course in Pythianism. It involves the training of the mental, moral and physical powers by instruction and exercise, and by authoritative control and direction. It teaches harmonious co-operation and effective action. It reflects devoted allegiance to our flag and country and to the Order. It brings an added interest and transmits rays of light and color to our Order. It is gratifying to know that it is progressing splendidly.

Crushed Under Own Auto.

Poughkeepsie, July 26.—Pinned under his automobile, which had turned over as he tried to avoid another machine, William E. Ritchie, president of the village of Poughkeepsie and prominent mill owner, received injuries yesterday morning from which he died in Vanderburgh Hospital. The accident occurred on the road between Poughkeepsie and Poughkeepsie. Mr. Ritchie was on his way to Poughkeepsie to complete the purchase of the Rock. He died at 3 o'clock.

DARING THIEVES.

Got $200 From Ticket Seller At Elks' Field.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 26.—Some daring, resourceful thieves carried more excitement at Elks' Field last night than did the changing of the banner which took place from Joe Lynch to Pete Herman.

While the crowd was cheering around the ticket windows, the thieves saw one of the men was out, plunging in through the window and when the excitement subsided it was found that $200 was missing.

Not knowing what had happened, the crowd became restless, the gate was "crashed" and it was some time before the incoherent handful of police could restore a semblance of order.

Company W. Challenges Police.

Company W. challenged the police to a baseball game and are confident of winning a victory if a contest is set on. If the police want a game they can notify W. Jordan at the state armory.

Members of Home For Aged.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Home for the Aged will be held at the home on Thursday afternoon, July 22, at 3 o'clock.

IRWIN PRODS CITY DEMOCRATS

A preliminary meeting of Democrats was held at the city court room at the city hall Monday evening to discuss the all-important question as to what steps shall be taken to rehabilitate what was left of that political party in this city, and who shall be selected to sacrifice themselves for nomination as candidates of the party for mayor, city judge, alderman-at-large, aldermen and supervisors. It was an executive session to which the members of the city committee and other Democrats had been by word of mouth requested to come and about sixty attended. Roscoe Irwin, former mayor, city recorder and internal revenue collector, presided and Isidor Simpson acted as secretary. Among those whom a reporter of The Freeman noticed going into the meeting, room were City Judge Schrick, City Marshal Arthur Rice, Robert J. Howard of the county board of elections, Supervisors Joseph Schuler and Charles Partlan, Emanuel Metzger, Harry Sleight, John J. Cuneo, Hugh F. Connelly, Joseph S. Pessentier, Dr. John F. Larkin, former city treasurer Joseph A. Sheppard, Dr. W. E. E. Little, who has been mentioned as being likely to have thrust upon him the Democratic nomination for mayor this fall, Richard Murphy, Edmund J. Britt, Charles W. Dulois, Eugene Carey, and others of the faithful.

From what could be learned Chairman Irwin made a straight from-the-shoulder speech in which he characterized the city committeemen as indolent and laggards and that the Democratic party in this city and county has simply gotten to be an anathema to the Republican party. That nobody had done anything to help keep the party together during the past six years, and the work of getting up petitions and looking after all the details he had been forced to attend to. He wanted the ward committeemen to call a meeting this week of what Democrats there were in their wards and discuss whom they considered the best men to nominate for supervisor and alderman, and to suggest whom they thought would make the strongest candidates for the city offices after a consensus of opinion was had. That there should be persistent work done and unless personal efforts were put forth there would be no success, and he considered there was an excellent opportunity to elect the ticket in November. Emanuel Metzger and Harry Sleight, a former supervisor of the Second ward also spoke.

The old ward committeemen promised to do what Irwin had suggested and take action to begin anew to build up what was left of the party in their wards and appoint a new ward committeemen to be a member of a new city committee, and report at an adjourned meeting to be held next week.

WALTON MAY SUCCEED LUSK

As Senate Majority Leader—Disclosures In New York Cause Most Of Lusk's Republican Colleagues To Believe That He Has Served His Usefulness And Under Man Is Logical Successor.

Through the efforts of friends in the senate, Senator Charles W. Walton of this city may become majority leader of that body to succeed Senator Clayton R. Lusk, who was elected to that position last winter despite Senator Walton's seniority of service.

Senator Lusk, it is said, may be asked to resign the leadership as the result of disclosures before the Meyer legislative investigating committee in New York city on Monday, when testimony was given that the New York city detectives had presented Mrs. Lusk, wife of Senator Lusk, with a chest of silver which cost $1,150.

The New York Times of this morning says that two separate movements against Senator Lusk were started—one to bring about his retirement as a member of the New York committee, and the other, already sponsored by several Republican senators, to ask for his resignation as majority leader of the senate, a position second in importance only to that of governor of the state.

The movement to bring about Senator Lusk's resignation as majority leader, says the Times, developed the more easily because most of his Republican colleagues were opposed to him for that post and his election was brought about by the insistence of Governor Nathan L. Miller, formerly from Senator Lusk's home town, Cortland, who is said to regard Lusk as a sort of protector. Most of the Republican senators, says the Times, desired Senator Walton, consider the firm entitled to the place by ability and length of service. It was said that practically all the senators who seek to bring about Senator Lusk's deposition would favor Senator Walton as his successor.

REPORT OF GRAND CHANCELLOR CANFIELD TO PYTHIAN CONVENTION

Pythians in the domain of New York now number 30,000, a gain of over 5,000 during the past year, and eight new lodges were installed. These and other facts of interest to Pythians as showing the flourishing condition of their order in this territory were presented in the report of Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield, Jr., to the 53rd annual grand lodge convention at the Elks' clubhouse today.

The report reads as follows:

GRAND LODGE, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, DOMAIN OF NEW YORK, Office of the Grand Chancellor, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y. July 25, 1921.

To the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Grand Domain of New York: My Dear Brothers: We are informed that a year is the period of time in which the earth completes a revolution around the sun and in which the seasons go through their changes.

I have completed a revolution or circuit around the Pythian center or axis of the Grand Lodge year. I have passed through the cycle of events and seasons which are associated with the Grand Chancellorship. Yet, the time seems to have been too short and brief to have maintained the standard desired and to have attained all results expected. All I can state is that I really tried to give my best.

SUPREME CHANCELLOR.

We are greatly honored in having William Ladew of our own Domain as Supreme Chancellor. It is an honor paid him by the Supreme Lodge because of distinguished Pythian service he has rendered, the high mentality and great executive capacity with which he is endowed and which he has ever freely and willingly given to the Order, and his active fidelity to the Order covering a period of over forty years. The great desire of the Pythians of New York was gratified and their hopes brought to a realization when he was installed in that high and important office. May all of us remember this coming year the high honor conferred upon us, and prove our claim and right to it by renewed support of the Supreme Chancellor.

SUPREME VICE-CHANCELLOR.

Our Order is to be also honored in the future in having the personage of George C. Cabell as our next Supreme Chancellor. He possesses all necessary mental qualifications, together with a gentleness and a warmth and kindness of disposition that will help him smooth some of the roughness that comes in the path of any high office. He will be a worthy successor to the present Supreme Chancellor, William Ladew, and his immediate predecessor, Charles S. Davis, and those who served so well in the past.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS.

We can have great and pleasing expectations for the coming year. We can have not only a livable desire for the achievement of our objects, but a desire that is obtainable. We can happily indulge and entertain a strong hope for superior success during the next administration. We cherish strong hopes and look forward with trustful and eager expectations that will be met.

The reason for such confidence in the future of Pythianism in our Domain is the faculties, the power, the invigorating motives and the earnest and appealing personalities of our Grand Lodge officers who have so ably supported me and who will continue to bear the leading allotments of service.

COMING GRAND CHANCELLOR.

Our coming Grand Chancellor, Morris A. Drucker, has shown a striking exemplification of all proper and requisite Pythian attributes necessary for the high office. He is endowed with those ideas and qualities which go with personality. He has an earnest energy, a fidelity and loyalty based upon his love for the Order, and the executive ability, to make the coming year the greatest in this Domain. He has worked indefatigably and has more than earned the higher office he will soon fill. All success to him and his administration.

ALONZO BEDELL.

Our Grand Keeper of Records and Seal represents the height of loyalty and the personification of faithfulness to the Order. His office is a most important one and involves many functions of which very few members have any knowledge. Yet, he performed all services in a diligent and painstaking manner, and in such an efficient manner as to merit our respect as well as approval. I owe much of the success of my administration to him. Our loving regard for him will ever grow more and our kind esteem for him will never grow less. The Order needs him. May we continue to have the benefit of his experience and judgment for many years to come. May his shadow never grow less.

DEPUTIES GRAND CHANCELLOR.

The Deputies Grand Chancellor during the past year have been Pythian zealots. They have assiduously and unremittently carried on the duties of their important office. They have been absorbed in devotion for the cause of our Order. Each is deserving of having his name mentioned personally with a bill of particulars of work accomplished, of service rendered and of results obtained. Space will not permit of such deserving commendation being bestowed individually as it would involve a history of the efforts, labors and accomplishments of the past year instead of a mere report. So I present each and every Deputy Grand Chancellor to the Pythians of our Domain as worthy of our favorable and special attention and unqualified approbation. I do not mention you, Brother Deputy Grand Chancellor, from the viewpoint of mere courtesy, but from the standpoint of gratitude, kindly remembrance and brotherly good will.

PYTHIAN SISTERS.

If we follow the processes of induction we must conclude that what has been true this past term will be true during the coming term. It is a process of demonstration which must be accepted.

The Pythian Sisters, from Grand Chief Emma M. Tower to the most humble member, have been devoted in attention and constant in application to the great Order they represent. They have worked and labored with loyal diligence. They have pursued their objects with a faith and a courage and have completely fulfilled all expectations. We express our commendation to them with the thought that breathe gratitude. The future promises much for the Pythian Sisters. I hope that it may be the privilege in the future of many more Knights sharing in the work to turn these promises into a certainty.

UNIFORM RANK.

The Uniform Rank is an important branch of our Order. It answers the character of a post-graduate course in Pythianism. It involves the training of the mental, moral and physical powers by instruction and exercise, and by authoritative control and direction. It teaches harmonious cooperation and collective action. It reflects devoted allegiance to our flag and country and to the Order. It brings an added interest and transmits rays of light and color to our Order. It is gratifying to know that it is progressing splendidly.

REPORT OF GRAND CHANCELLOR

New York Brigade, Uniform Rank, we salute you in respect and friendship.

DRAMATIC ORDER KNIGHTS OF KHORASSAN.

Without the lighter shades of life, we would all be buried in serious shadows. There are times when it is food for the mind, nourishment to the heart and sunshine for the soul, to give way to the sportive exercise of the imagination and playful fancy that exist in the treatment of ideas and themes in the so-called playground of Pythianism.

There is a brightening delight in things that are ludicrous or incongruous. Yet the pleasant and facetious turn of the thought brings lessons with it that are worth while. Then the companionable and friendly socialness that characterizes such gatherings means much to life. Truly, the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan occupies a permanent position in relation to our Order.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

As the Insurance Department comes under the control and jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, it is sometimes not given the thought and attention it deserves. We know that this department is on a stable basis, is being conducted efficiently and ably, and is worthy of greater support. The guaranty and pledge of protection that goes with a policy should belong to and be a part of every Pythian family.

PYTHIAN HOME.

Our Home is sometimes spoken of as an institution. Yet it is so much more than that. An institution is not much more than an organization and a building. Our Home is the place of happy abode of our members and their respective wives who are in need of such a place and the care and attention that go with it. It is a congenial place of peace and rest. Much of its success is due to the faithful efforts of the President, P. G. C. Charles W. Endel, and his co-trustees and workers. They make a splendid showing this year and their report should be carefully read and considered by everyone interested in our Order.

MEMBERSHIP.

We are all vitally interested in our membership. Our interest is not based upon that we are merely interested in large numbers to make a large, numerical showing. We have an intense desire to see our Order augment its membership because we believe in the Order and its usefulness. The greater its strength, the greater its sphere of activity and the greater good will be accomplished.

At the beginning of my administration the hands of the clock of time were set ahead so that they pointed to the mark of 30,000 members at the time of this convention. It was necessary for us to take an unusually long journey to reach such destination. We had a membership of about 24,766 at that time. It required the unheard of gain of over 5,000 for one year, or more than twenty per cent.

We have succeeded. We have exceeded the 5,000 membership gain. We have gone forward until we met the hands at the 30,000 mark. The work of initiation continued after July first so that we might reach our objective. This means that we now possess the power of overcoming all resisting obstacles. A moving body is difficult to stop, and the impetus we have gathered will make it impossible to stop or even slow down.

We have reached the 30,000 station.

We must journey on, and a continuation of the same speed will cause us to reach 50,000 by 1924 and 100,000 by 1928. It is a challenge to us, brothers, which we have accepted. Let us fulfill it.

MANUAL.

Pursuant to the direction of the last Grand Lodge, the excellent Manual for the Government of Subordinate Lodges, prepared by P. S. R. Henry Lemmermann, P. C. Cyril Oatman Osborne and P. C. Hiram Moss Jones, was printed in convenient form and distributed. As stated in the preface, the purpose of the Manual is to preserve the Statutes and regulate the usages and customs established by the Order, and to standardize the work throughout the Grand Domain.

The Manual is replete with suggestions and information which is worthy of serious consideration and study and of being followed. There should be a better understanding of the Supreme and Grand Statutes by the Subordinate Lodge officers. There would be then a better comprehension of the fundamentals of the Order and a greater perception of its properties, processes and opportunities. It is a Pythian treasure but not intended to be a hidden treasure. It should be used and studied to a greater extent and its value realized and utilized.

LADEW TESTIMONIAL RECEPTIONS.

Special meetings were held in New York City on November 15, 1920; in Utica, on February 14, 1921, and in Buffalo, on June 5th, 1921, in honor of our Supreme Chancellor in pursuance to the resolution passed at our last Grand Lodge Convention.

The testimonial reception in New York City was a remarkable one in every respect. It was held in Carnegie Hall and nearly five thousand Pythians and their friends were present and many could not gain admittance. At that meeting the first note of Americanism was sounded by our Supreme Chancellor which reverberated throughout the Supreme Domain. The meeting was honored with the presence of Supreme Vice-Chancellor Cabell. A speaking and musical program of high standard was given. It was one of the greatest meetings ever held by our Order or any other fraternal organization in every respect. Many worked for its success, but special mention should be made of the untiring efforts of Grand Vice-Chancellor Morris A. Drucker and P. D. G. C. Maxwell Lustig.

The Utica meeting was largely attended and was presided over by our esteemed Grand Prelate, Hon. James K. O'Connor, Mayor of the City. A splendid program was provided, including an able address by our Supreme Chancellor.

The Buffalo reception was held in the beautiful Cathedral of the Consistory of the Scottish Rites, which offered a fine setting for the meeting. It was presided over by our able and beloved Pythian leader, Hon. Henry W. Hill, P. G. C. The Pythian Sisters participated in the reception and program. The music was of a high and excellent character and everything was fitting in its tone to properly conform with the importance and dignity of the office of Supreme Chancellor.

VISITATIONS AND DOCUMENTS.

It has been my pleasure and privilege to visit practically every section of the Domain. The new zest and interest in the Order resulted in renewed activity and many large meetings. The demands for the Grand Chancellor could not all be met. I traveled upwards of twelve thousand miles and attended over one hundred and twenty Pythian meetings. More than twenty of these meetings were District meetings with the members of several lodges present or represented.

I sent our seven printed Official Documents. In addition, however, I sent many other letters and communications to the lodges, Deputies Grand Chancellors and others. Altogether, I sent out over twelve thousand letters and communications. I feel that some of the seed sown has borne a little fruit which is the greatest satisfaction which can come to one as a reward of effort.

PYTHIAN DISTRICTS.

One of the things that impressed me was the territory uncovered up-state. This results from our present method of fixing our Districts. They do not cover a defined portion of the State. They are of undefined extent. A point has only position without extent. A line is a magnitude having length but no breadth. A surface is a magnitude having length and breadth.

At the present time our Districts consist of mere points. It would seem to me that they should be definite surfaces to produce decisive effects. Now there is no man's land between all Districts. There are villages and cities without a Pythian lodge and no Deputy to claim jurisdiction over such territory. It means that the system is broken, impaired and weakened.

I believe there would be a greater inducement and a greater power to produce more or better action in these places if the up State was divided into Districts of given boundary lines. Counties, and in some parts Senatorial Districts, could be taken. It might be more operative and serviceable.

LODGE DEPUTIES.

One of our defects is the difficulty to obtain a report from all of the Subordinate Lodges. It is almost impossible to get better than a sixty per cent. report. A deputy in each lodge to represent the District Deputy might solve the problem and otherwise assist in better administering affairs. The Grand Chancellor could then call upon his Deputies who in turn would call upon their Lodge Deputies. The Lodge Deputies would then report to their respective District Deputies, who would report to the Grand Chancellor. It would make a complete chain connecting the lodges with the Grand Chancellor.

GRAND TRIBUNAL.

A matter was presented to the attention of the Grand Tribunal, who took charge of it in a competent manner, but the same was settled and withdrawn before any determination was required.

DISPENSATIONS.

I was called upon to grant fifty-seven dispensations to hold special meetings or to change dates of meetings and other subjects properly covered thereby.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS.

One of the real jobs involving skill, care and patience is that of the Chairman of the Law Committee, in passing upon revised and amended by-laws. Very few of our general membership are sufficiently familiar with the Grand Law or understand it well enough to revise a set of by-laws legally and properly. Brother Myron Krieger, the Chairman of the committee, was obliged to give an enormous amount of energy and time which he did willingly, as was also the Grand Chancellor in performing this work. Sometimes it is necessary to eliminate entire sections and chapters as being inconsistent with the law. It would seem that proposed new by-laws should be forwarded to the Chairman of the Law Committee by the Committee on Revision of Subordinate Lodges before submission to the lodge for action. In such case the lodge can be helped and advised and the by-laws will not have to be hacked and cut to pieces after their adoption by the lodge.

CONSOLIDATIONS.

The only consolidations were Ulster Lodge, No. 76, with Franklin, No. 37, and Charter Oak, No. 318, with Lincoln, No. 223. These consolidations have worked out well and the new Franklin and Lincoln lodges are thriving successfully.

NEW LODGES.

The Domain has been fortunate in having a number of ardent and active Pythians, including our Grand Vice-Chancellor, who have worked diligently to institute new lodges. As a result we have eight new lodges. They are Pythian babes and yet they do not show the appearance or disposition of children. They start with the strength and courage of an older lodge and yet with the enthusiasm that goes with youth. Some of them bid fair to outstep the lodges that sponsored them in a very short time. These new lodges bring new vitality to our Order, and extend our circle.

The following are the lodges instituted:

Fidelity, No. 457, New York City.
Bon-Amicus, No. 458, New York City.
Borough Park, No. 459, Brooklyn.
Radiant, No. 460, New York City.
Rome, No. 462, Rome.
Oneida, No. 386, Oneida.
Sovereign Senators, No. 463, New York City.
Clinton, No. 461, Bronx.

If we had a competent State Deputy this number could have been doubled.

PYTHIAN EDUCATION.

It is difficult for the Pythian Education Committee to work as a unit with its members from various parts of the Domain. The result is that each must work individually instead of all uniting and working collectively. It would seem that a better method could be found. The members of this committee have strived to accomplish something worth while but to have an outstanding result the work must be consolidated. In this connection I believe that a Lecture Bureau would be of great service. All members who are speakers or who have special Pythian lectures or slides could be listed up and would be subject to reasonable call upon payment of actual expenses. Many lodges would have more public and interesting meetings if they could obtain the necessary speakers.

AUDITS.

The accounts and books of the Board of Trustees of the Pythian Home, the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, and the Grand Master of Exchequer have been audited, and are filed herewith, and will be printed in the Journal of Proceedings.

RELIEF AND EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The Relief and Employment Bureau of the Pythian Guild of New York City, under the able leadership of Leopold Philipp, is furnishing a wonderful service and accomplishing splendid results. Our Order as a whole does not include enough of the character of service carried on by this Bureau. It involves work of an arduous nature and much of it, but it is surprising how many cases of need are looked after and cared for. Maintain your courage, brothers, and continue the Pythian relief and the service you are rendering. I file the report for 1920 and suggest that it be printed in the Journal of Proceedings.

SIXTH PYTHIAN DISTRICT FOUNDATION.

The financial report of this Pythian agency shows it is carrying on an extensive work for the benefit and welfare of the Order.

THE DISTRICT HOSPITAL RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

This association expended a considerable sum last year for hospital service to members of the lodges of the District. Organizations such as this are doing social welfare and benevolent work of a practical character. There are other associations rendering Pythian service, but as I have not received a copy of their report, I cannot refer to them. We need these associations to properly exemplify the great principles of our Order.

SERVE AND BUILD.

There must be an appealing inducement before any intelligent person will act. There must be a motive or consideration to induce and produce action and results. As Shakespeare said, "Mark the inducement." Our Order cannot be a negative or passive organization in these days of social and boys' welfare and civic work. We must serve to build and build to serve. We must make our Order a five pointed or five fold star for mankind and humanity, having in view our country, our Order, our lodge, our members, and the public. Then will "Our promises be fair, our progress sure, and our induction full of prosperous hope."

PASSED AND GONE.

There are those who have passed to the Supreme Chancellor on high, but their memories are still with us. Brother John Stevenson, Supreme Representative, loved by all Pythians, left this life for the great life beyond. His Pythian service will be properly commemorated at this Convention.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That a committee be appointed to investigate and consider the advisability of changing the present methods of defining Pythian Districts, to report at the next Grand Lodge Convention.
2. That the same committee consider the advisability of having Lodge Deputies.
3. That the salary of the Grand Master of Exchequer be made $250.
4. That the salary and allowance to the Grand Chancellor be made $1,500.
5. That there be allowed to the Grand Chancellor a special emergency fund for special Deputy work and Grand Lodge officer assignments of $1,000.
6. That the allowance for office expense of the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal and for stationery for Grand Lodge uses be made $1,500.
7. That the allowance for general printing be made $1,500.
8. That the per diem rate be increased to $5.00 and the mileage rate of five cents per mile.
9. That the allowance for the audit of accounts of financial officers be made $125.
10. That the Grand Lodge Convention be held earlier in 1922, so as not to conflict with the Supreme Lodge or to prevent the Supreme Chancellor and Supreme Representatives from attending the Grand Lodge.

CONCLUSION.

I desire to again give expression of grateful acknowledgment to a strong feeling of thankfulness for helpful assistance given and rendered so cheerfully and willingly by Grand Lodge Officers, Deputy Grand Chancellor, and officers and members of Subordinate Lodges. I only wish to and for my successor the same character and degree of co-operation.

While this has been a year of most satisfying achievement, yet the coming year must even excel and exceed it in every way. We should carry on our great work in a bigger and more helpful way. There are opportunities never before known. Let us grasp them, take full advantage of them, transfer them into activity, convert them into Pythian service, and write them in flaming golden letters upon the heart and mind of humanity.

May success, prosperity and happiness ever be with you and yours.

Sincerely and fraternally,

PALMER CANFIELD,
Grand Chancellor.

JACK JOHNSON IS BACK AGAIN

Dredgeman Who Bends Cell Bars Of Iron With His Hands Can't Stand City Booze—Two Drunks Cost Him Just $15.

In again, out again, back again that's Jack Johnson, dredgeman, and generally all around strong man, who bends the iron bars of the cells in the city hall lockup with his hands, but can't stand a glass of Kingston's booze. So far during his stay in Kingston it has cost Jack $15 in fines, not counting what he had to pay for the booze he slipped down his throat. And to look at Jack, one would wonder where his strength comes from for he does not weigh over 140 pounds and is of slight build.

To add the last chapter to Jack's career—that is the last chapter up to the time this was written—it is necessary to go back and give a synopsis of Jack's Kingston career. The big government dredge arrived in Kingston creek late Saturday night Sunday afternoon early Jack was arrested for public intoxication, and placed in a cell in the city hall lockup. At about 7:40 o'clock Jack bent the bars of the cell door and crawled through to freedom but was overhauled and caught near the city hall Monday morning he paid a fine of $5 and was discharged.

Monday evening about 7 o'clock the telephone in police headquarters rang and a voice said that there were two drunks on Ferry street leaning up against the Hiltrebrand restaurant and that they could not be classed as ornaments. Officers Reardon and Murphy picked up the drunks who proved to be Jack and his pal, Bill McCarthy, another dredgeman.

They were placed in separate cells, and Jack's cell was not the one he escaped from. To make sure that he would have two doors to break through the outer door leading out into the corridor was also closed and locked for the night.

This morning in police court Bill was fined $5 and paid, and Jack, facing the court for the second time in forty-eight hours, threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was fined $10 however, as it was his second offense.

When found Monday evening both were sprawled out on the sidewalk asleep, and neither could see why the police were so cruel as to disturb their slumbers.

UPPER SILESIA HAS NEW RIOTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, July 26.—Fighting has again broken out in Upper Silesia, according to a Zeitsung dispatch to the Allgemeines Zeitung today.

Six Germans were wounded in a clash with Polish insurgents. A general strike has been proclaimed at Rybnik.

The Poles were said to be the aggressors. The Polish insurgents have seized the Briwe-Zergowitz railway. A number of railway stations were set on fire.

The Breslau-Ratibor express could not make its regular trip on account of damage to the line. London, July 26.—The French were reported today to have canceled their plans for sending reinforcements into Upper Silesia as a result of the protests of the British and the refusal of the British to send more troops.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that an agreement between Great Britain and France over Upper Silesia is pending and that the supreme council will meet between August 1 and August 4 to consider the Silesian issue.

The British experts who, with French experts, have been studying the boundary question in Upper Silesia, will participate in the supreme council meeting.

COURT ORDERS SMALL ARRESTED

Clash Between Illinois Judiciary and Governor Who Refuses to Submit to Arrest on Indictment Charging Embezzlement of Vast Sums Comes To Head.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Springfield, Illinois, July 26.—Governor Len Small of Illinois today was ordered arrested on charges involving misuse of state interest funds.

His arrest was ordered by Circuit Court Judge E. S. Smith, in a decision denying the right of a governor to immunity from the state criminal code. Warrants charging the governor with a confidence game, embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud, involving $2,500,000, were in the hands of Circuit Court Clerk Charles L. Koehn when Judge Smith handed down his informal decision.

They were to be given to Sheriff Harry Meester for immediate service. Meester said he would make his first attempt at service by telephone to the governor's secretary asking that the governor submit himself to arrest at the sheriff's office.

"I shall give him sufficient time to decide his course of action," added Meester.

"If the governor absolutely ignores your request what will you do?" the sheriff was asked. "I shall not use force until every other effort has failed. I shall simply carry out the law. The governor, I think, will not oppose the law," he replied.

"If every other measure failed I would consider carefully before using force," he added.

NO SINN FEIN DECISION YET

Cabinet About Ready To Give Matter To Dail Eireann And De Valera Intimates Statement May Not Be Forthcoming For Several Days.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dublin, July 26.—Another full session of the Sinn Fein cabinet to consider the British peace terms was held today with Eamonn De Valera present.

De Valera said he would not have a statement for the press for several days.

London, July 26.—The Sinn Fein cabinet at Dublin is now ready for Dail Eireann, (the Sinn Fein parliament) to begin secret debate upon the peace offer of Premier Lloyd-George, according to advices from Dublin today.

All of the developments of the past twenty-four hours have been of such a nature as to increase rather than diminish optimism.

Premier Lloyd-George announced in the House of Commons that the Irish armistice would continue, pending resumption of the negotiations between Eamonn De Valera and the English government. This indicated that the premier is hopeful that a satisfactory reply will be received from De Valera and that a general peace parley ultimately will be arranged.

While the Irish Bulletin, the official organ of the Irish republicans, declared that the Sinn Fein would be content with nothing less than independence, it was pointed out that independence could be achieved under the dominion form of government.

The Irish republican army chiefs and the commander of the Crown forces in Ireland are reported to have reached an agreement upon alleged violations of the truce by the English.

Auto Truck Mishaps.

This morning a large truck loaded with goods for the Jacobson plant in this city was coming down the Sleightsburgh hill when the brakes refused to work and to avoid running into the Rondout creek the truck was steered into the coal pockets on the dock. No one was hurt.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

Buy constructively.
This would be a very good slogan for the people of America to adopt today, for there is just as much thrift in correct buying as there is in correct saving.

At the present time the country is in need of greater business activity. The wheels of industry that are now still cannot be made to revolve again, however, and the workmen who are now out of employment cannot be put back on their old jobs unless the people of the country spend more money. But the spending must be along right lines if it is to help the situation. Funds spent for purposes that are wasteful will not make matters better.

At present we are suffering from the natural reaction of immediate post-war extravagance. To have brought an end to the unwholesome economic conditions that existed from the fall of 1918 until the summer of 1920, was laudable, but the pendulum has swung the other way, and many lines of business are suffering from the excessive retrenchment of the people.

To be thrifty is to thrive.

Arrested progress is unwholesome, and the business interests of the country should not be made to suffer the unjust and harmful results of misguided economy.

It is always within the bounds of true thrift to spend money prudently and constructively just as it is never thrifty under any circumstances to spend money wastefully.

There is a happy medium between extravagance and hoarding. And worldwide conditions today demand the most thoughtful attention along these lines.

Progress can only be made where real thrift exists—not only the thrift of prudent saving but the thrift of intelligent spending. If each citizen of this country would study these problems with the view of helping the general business situation along right lines, and, where he is able to do so, buy constructively, that is, spend for purposes that are not wasteful and which at the same time will help get our idle workmen back to work, he will be practicing broad, patriotic, up-building thrift.

TELLS OF LIGHTNING ZONES

United States Forest Service Corrects an Impression That Has Become Almost Universal.

It is an old saying that most provinces are only half-truths. Some are wholly contrary to fact.

For instance, there is an ancient saw to the effect that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." This is absolutely untrue.

The United States forest service, which dreads lightning as a frequent cause of forest fires, asserts that lightning has "zones of frequency," where it is likely to strike whenever there is an electrical storm. It suggests that such zones might be mapped with a view to special precautions.

These zones have reference to topography, especially in mountainous regions. A hill much more likely to be struck by lightning than any area of lowland because it is nearer to the clouds.

An isolated tree does not "attract" lightning, as is commonly supposed. If it be very tall, lightning is more apt to strike it than to hit objects in its neighborhood because of its height merely.

For a like reason the Eiffel tower in Paris is often been struck by lightning. The lofty shaft erected in honor of the father of his country, in Washington, is a frequent target for thun-derbolts, and has to be protected against them by an elaborate system of lightning rods.

A high mountain top is sure to be struck frequently by lightning. But not so if its elevation be great enough to uplift it beyond the ordinary level of thunderclouds. In that case it will have a lightning-struck zone lower down, around its sides.

Often a lightning-bolt discharged into quartz rock or quartz sand melts the silica and forms a curious little pipe of glass, perhaps an inch in diameter and some inches in length. Such pipes, called "fingertips," are sometimes found in large numbers on mountain tops.

DRAMATIC ORDER KNIGHTS OF KHORASSON.

Without the lighter shades of life, we would all be buried in serious shadows. There are times when it is food for the mind, nourishment to the heart and sunshine for the soul, to give way to the sportive exercise of the imagination and playful fancy that exist in the treatment of ideas and themes in the so-called playground of Pythianism.

There is a brightening delight in things that are ludicrous or incongruous. Yet the pleasant and facetious turn of the thought brings lessons with it that are worth while. Then the companionable and friendly socialness that characterizes such gatherings means much to life. Truly, the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorasson occupies a permanent position in relation to our Order.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

As the Insurance Department comes under the control and jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, it is sometimes not given the thought and attention it deserves. We know that this department is on a stable basis, is being conducted efficiently and ably, and is worthy of greater support. The guaranty and pledge of protection that goes with a policy should belong to and be a part of every Pythian family.

PYTHIAN HOME.

Our Home is sometimes spoken of as an institution. Yet it is so much more than that. An institution is not much more than an organization and a building. Our Home is the place of happy abode of our members and their respective wives who are in need of such a place and the care and attention that go with it. It is a congenial place of peace and rest. Much of its success is due to the faithful efforts of the President, P. C. C. Charles W. Endel, and his co-trustees and workers. They make a splendid showing this year and their report should be carefully read and considered by everyone interested in our Order.

MEMBERSHIP.

We are all vitally interested in our membership. Our interest is not based upon that we are merely interested in large numbers to make a large, numerical showing. We have an intense desire to see our Order augment its membership because we believe in the Order and its usefulness. The greater its strength, the greater its sphere of activity and the greater good will be accomplished.

At the beginning of my administration the hands of the clock of time were set ahead so that they pointed to the mark of 30,000 members at the time of this convention. It was necessary for us to take an unusually long journey to reach such destination. We had a membership of about 24,766 at that time. It required the unheard of gain of over 5,000 for one year, or more than twenty per cent.

We have succeeded. We have exceeded the 5,000 membership gain. We have gone forward until we met the hands at the 30,000 mark. The work of initiation continued after July first so that we might reach our objective. This means that we now possess the power of overcoming all resisting obstacles. A moving body is difficult to stop, and the impetus we have gathered will make it impossible to stop or even slow down.

We have reached the 30,000 station.

We must journey on, and a continuation of the same speed will cause us to reach 50,000 by 1924 and 100,000 by 1926. It is a challenge to us, brothers, which we have accepted. Let us fulfill it.

MANUAL.

Pursuant to the direction of the last Grand Lodge, the excellent Manual for the Government of Subordinate Lodges, prepared by P. S. R. Henry Lemmermann, P. C. Cyril Oatman Osborne and P. C. Hiram Moss Jones, was printed in convenient form and distributed. As stated in the preface, the purpose of the Manual is to preserve the Statutes and regulate the usages and customs established by the Order, and to standardize the work throughout the Grand Domain.

The Manual is replete with suggestions and information which is worthy of serious consideration and study and of being followed. There should be a better understanding of the Supreme and Grand Statutes by the Subordinate Lodge officers. There would be then a better comprehension of the fundamentals of the Order and a greater perception of its properties, processes and opportunities. It is a Pythian treasure but not intended to be a hidden treasure. It should be used and studied to a greater extent and its value realized and utilized.

LADEW TESTIMONIAL RECEPTIONS.

Special meetings were held in New York City on November 15, 1920; in Utica, on February 14, 1921, and in Buffalo, on June 5th, 1921, in honor of our Supreme Chancellor in pursuance to the resolution passed at our last Grand Lodge Convention.

The testimonial reception in New York City was a remarkable one in every respect. It was held in Carnegie Hall and nearly five thousand Pythians and their friends were present and many could not gain admittance. At that meeting the first note of Americanism was sounded by our Supreme Chancellor which reverberated throughout the Supreme Domain. The meeting was honored with the presence of Supreme Vice-Chancellor Cabell. A speaking and musical program of high standard was given. It was one of the greatest meetings ever held by our Order or any other fraternal organization in every respect. Many worked for its success, but special mention should be made of the untiring efforts of Grand Vice-Chancellor Morris A. Drucker and P. D. G. C. Maxwell Lustig.

The Utica meeting was largely attended and was presided over by our esteemed Grand Prelate, Hon. James K. O'Connor, Mayor of the City. A splendid program was provided, including an able address by our Supreme Chancellor.

The Buffalo reception was held in the beautiful Cathedral of the Consistory of the Scottish Rites, which offered a fine setting for the meeting. It was presided over by our able and beloved Pythian leader, Hon. Henry W. Hill, P. G. C. The Pythian Sisters participated in the reception and program. The music was of a high and excellent character and everything was fitting in its tone to properly conform with the importance and dignity of the office of Supreme Chancellor.

VISITATIONS AND DOCUMENTS.

It has been my pleasure and privilege to visit practically every section of the Domain. The new zest and interest in the Order resulted in renewed activity and many large meetings. The demands for the Grand Chancellor could not all be met. I traveled upwards of twelve thousand miles and attended over one hundred and twenty Pythian meetings. More than twenty of these meetings were District meetings with the members of several lodges present or represented.

I sent our seven printed Official Documents. In addition, however, I sent many other letters and communications to the lodges, Deputies Grand Chancellors and others. Altogether, I sent out over twelve thousand letters and communications. I feel that some of the seed sown has borne a little fruit which is the greatest satisfaction which can come to one as a reward of effort.

PYTHIAN DISTRICTS.

One of the things that impressed me was the territory uncovered up-state. This results from our present method of fixing our Districts. They do not cover a defined portion of the State. They are of undefined extent. At present has only position without extent. A line is a magnitude having length but no breadth. A surface is a magnitude having length and breadth.

At the present time our Districts consist of mere points. It would seem to me that they should be definite surfaces to produce definite results. Now there is no man's land between all Districts. There are villages and cities without a Pythian lodge and no Deputy to claim jurisdiction over such territory. It seems that the system is broken, impaired and weakened.

I believe there would be a greater independence and a greater power to produce more or better action in these places if the up State was divided into Districts of given boundary lines. Countries, and in some parts Subordinate Districts, could be taken. It might be more operative and serviceable.

LODGE DEPUTIES.

One of our defects is the difficulty to obtain a report from all of the Subordinate Lodges. It is almost impossible to get better than a sixty per cent. report. A deputy in each lodge to represent the District Deputy might solve the problem and otherwise assist in better administering affairs. The Grand Chancellor could then call upon his Deputies who in turn would call upon their Lodge Deputies. The Lodge Deputies would then report to their respective District Deputies, who would report to the Grand Chancellor. It would make a complete chain connecting the lodges with the Grand Chancellor.

GRAND TRIBUNAL.

A matter was presented to the attention of the Grand Tribunal, who took charge of it in a competent manner, but the same was settled and withdrawn before any determination was required.

DISPENSATIONS.

I was called upon to grant fifty-seven dispensations to hold special meetings or to change dates of meetings and other subjects properly covered thereby.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS.

One of the real jobs involving skill, care and patience is that of the Chairman of the Law Committee, in passing upon revised and amended by-laws. Very few of our general membership are sufficiently familiar with the Grand Law or understand it well enough to revise a set of by-laws legally and properly. Brother Myron Krieger, the Chairman of the committee, was obliged to give an enormous amount of energy and time which he did willingly, as was also the Grand Chancellor in performing this work. Sometimes it is necessary to eliminate entire sections and chapters as being inconsistent with the law. It would seem that proposed new by-laws should be forwarded to the Chairman of the Law Committee by the Committee on Revision of Subordinate Lodges before submission to the lodge for action. In such case the lodge can be helped and advised and the by-laws will not have to be hacked and cut to pieces after their adoption by the lodge.

CONSOLIDATIONS.

The only consolidations were Ulster Lodge, No. 76, with Franklin, No. 37, and Charter Oak, No. 315, with Lincoln, No. 223. These consolidations have worked out well and the new Franklin and Lincoln lodges are thriving successfully.

NEW LODGES.

The Domain has been fortunate in having a number of ardent and active Pythians, including our Grand Vice-Chancellor, who have worked diligently to institute new lodges. As a result we have eight new lodges. They are Pythian babes and yet they do not show the appearance or disposition of children. They start with the strength and courage of an older lodge and yet with the enthusiasm that goes with youth. Some of them bid fair to outstep the lodges that sponsored them in a very short time. These new lodges bring new vitality to our Order, and extend our circle.

The following are the lodges instituted:

Fidelity, No. 457, New York City.
Bon-Amicus, No. 458, New York City.
Borough Park, No. 459, Brooklyn.
Radiant, No. 460, New York City.
Rome, No. 462, Rome.
Oneda, No. 386, Oneda.
Sovereign Senators, No. 463, New York City.
Clinton, No. 461, Bronx.

If we had a competent State Deputy this number could have been doubled.

PYTHIAN EDUCATION.

It is difficult for the Pythian Education Committee to work as a unit with its members from various parts of the Domain. The result is that each must work individually instead of all uniting and working collectively. It would seem that a better method could be found. The members of this committee have striven to accomplish something worth while but to have an outstanding result the work must be consolidated. In this connection I believe that a Lecture Bureau would be of great service. All members who are speakers or who have special Pythian lectures or slides could be listed up and would be subject to reasonable call upon payment of actual expenses. Many lodges would have more public and interesting meetings if they could obtain the necessary speakers.

AUDITS.

The accounts and books of the Board of Trustees of the Pythian Home, the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, and the Grand Master of Exchequer have been audited, and are filed herewith, and will be printed in the Journal of Proceedings.

RELIEF AND EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The Relief and Employment Bureau of the Pythian Guild of New York City, under the able leadership of Leopold Phillips, is furnishing a wonderful service and accomplishing splendid results. Our Order as a whole does not include enough of the character of service carried on by this Bureau. It involves work of an arduous nature and much of it, but it is surprising how many cases of need are looked after and cared for. Maintain your courage, brothers, and continue the Pythian relief and the service you are rendering. I file the report for 1920 and suggest that it be printed in the Journal of Proceedings.

SIXTH PYTHIAN DISTRICT FOUNDATION.

The financial report of this Pythian agency shows it is carrying on an extensive work for the benefit and welfare of the Order.

THE DISTRICT HOSPITAL RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

This association expended a considerable sum last year for hospital service to members of the lodges of the District. Organizations such as this are doing social welfare and benevolent work of a practical character. There are other associations rendering Pythian service, but as I have not received a copy of their report, I cannot refer to them. We need these associations to properly exemplify the great principles of our Order.

SERVE AND BUILD.

There must be an appealing inducement before any intelligent person will act. There must be a motive or consideration to induce and produce action and results. As Shakespeare said, "Mark the inducement." Our Order cannot be a negative or passive organization in these days of social and boys' welfare and civic work. We must serve to build and build to serve. We must make our Order a free platform or free field for marching and humanity, having in view our country, our Order, our lodge, our members, and the public. Then will "Our promises be fair, our progress sure, and our induction full of prosperous hope."

PASSED AND GONE.

There are those who have passed to the Supreme Chancellor on high, but their memories are still with us. Brother John Stevenson, Supreme Representative, loved by all Pythians, left this life for the great life beyond. His Pythian service will be properly commemorated at this Convention.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That a committee be appointed to investigate and consider the advisability of changing the present methods of designating Pythian Districts, to report at the next Grand Lodge Convention.
2. That the same committee consider the advisability of having Lodge Deputies.
3. That the salary of the Grand Master of Exchequer be made $250.
4. That the salary and allowance to the Grand Chancellor be made $1,500.
5. That there be allowed to the Grand Chancellor a special emergency fund for special Deputy work and Grand Lodge officer assignments of $1,000.
6. That the allowance for office expense of the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal and for stationery for Grand Lodge uses be made $1,500.
7. That the allowance for general printing be made $1,600.
8. That the per diem rate be increased to $5.00 and the mileage rate of five cents per mile.
9. That the allowance for the audit of accounts of financial officers be made $125.
10. That the Grand Lodge Convention be held earlier in 1922, so as not to conflict with the Supreme Lodge or to prevent the Supreme Chancellor and Supreme Representatives from attending the Grand Lodge.

CONCLUSION.

I desire to again give expression of grateful acknowledgment to a strong feeling of thankfulness for helpful assistance given and rendered so cheerfully and willingly by Grand Lodge Officers, Deputy Grand Chancellor, and officers and members of Subordinate Lodges. I only wish to and for my successor the same character and degree of co-operation.

While this has been a year of most satisfying achievement, yet the coming year must even excel and exceed it in every way. We should carry on our great work in a bigger and more helpful way. There are opportunities never before known. Let us grasp them, take full advantage of them, transfer them into activity, convert them into Pythian service, and write them in flaming golden letters upon the heart and mind of humanity.

May success, prosperity and happiness ever be with you and yours.

Sincerely and fraternally,

PALMER CANFIELD,
Grand Chancellor.

SMALL TOWN STUFF.

Noah W. Cooper, chairman of the Southern Methodist Sabbath School Crusade, heads a delegation of 25 other crusaders to Washington, with a petition to Congress urging a simple remedy guaranteed to heal the world's diseases. All we need to do is to pass a Federal law forbidding the carrying of passengers, freight, newspapers and all mails in interstate trains, shutting up all post offices, and prohibiting all mail deliveries on Sunday and all amusements and business for profit. Just do this, and we shall purge ourselves of sin and be at peace. All things will then be added unto us. We need not trouble ourselves with a disarmament conference, or even worry over the momentous question as to whether a cooperative effort of nations to check wars shall be called a (Wilson) League or a (Harding) Association. As a sample of Mr. Cooper's enlightened reasoning, he says that Europe wickedly sought recreation after its Sunday morning services and thus desecrating the Sabbath "God's fury broke upon it in the World War."

The Cooper delegation is important only as a symptom of the provincialism and narrowness of view that contribute so largely toward the making of this country's laws. The Congressman from the small town or village in the Middle West, the South, the Far West—the kind of town unsparingly pictured in "Main Street"—has an enormous influence in the national forum because he is supposed to speak for "the farmers" and "the churches." His ideas do not range beyond a small provincial neighborhood. He is not really aware of this vast country as a whole, let alone of Europe and the nations with which unavoidably we must have dealings—dealings which ought to be as intelligent and just as those of educated Christian gentlemen with each other. Ought to be, but too often are not. The influence on legislation of Gopher Prairie, Possum Trot and other provincial neighborhoods of our vast interior, boastfully self-sufficient and seeing only some inches beyond their noses, helps to explain many things otherwise inexplicable.

The lunatic immigration law, for example, which holds up at our gates distinguished foreigners even when they own American homes and famous artists who have contracts to appear in our opera houses and theaters, to say nothing of the tragic distress continually brought upon deserving folk of less renown. Then there is the emergency tariff law requiring American officials to go to the offices of foreign manufacturers whose goods come to this country to examine their books. What matter that the Paris Chamber of Commerce has promptly and unanimously declared that no French merchant or manufacturer will open his books to the agents of any foreign government whatsoever? If they don't like it, let them take the consequences. Of course, if European nations applied such rules to American exporters, or embarrassed with like restrictions Americans going abroad, a fury of indignation would sweep this country. But that is quite a different matter. All the privileges are ours of right and will be demanded, but foreign nations and foreigners—what are they but disgusting wine-bibbers, anyhow?—have no rights which Gopher Prairie and Possum Trot are bound to recognize or respect.

The American people spend five billions annually on luxuries and amusements, a billion going to the movies and theatres, half a billion for ice cream, soda water, etc., and taxes of a billion and a half being paid merely for the pleasure of chewing gum. In consequence the Thrift Division of the Treasury Department has instituted a campaign to discourage the indiscriminate buying of non-essentials, but in all probability will accomplish little. As long as people have money in their pockets most of them are apt to regard whatever they want as essential.

In delivering his series of lectures before the Institute of Politics during his session at Williams College, Vice-count James Bryce says he will "religiously refrain from discussing current politics," which will be wise.

It would indeed be a pity if aroused partisanship should prevent proper appreciation of the matured views on important subjects presented by the distinguished author of "The American Commonwealth" and "Modern Democracies."

"Attractive" Prices vs Tire Quality —Which Would You Bank Upon?

You know the answer. You can't buy a dollar for 98 cents. Don't try. Don't think that it's good business to pay 50 cents for a lead dollar.

And don't think that tires at "attractive" prices are as good an investment as true quality tires at reasonable prices.

The genuine Racine Multi-Mile cord and Racine Country Road (fabric) tires are true quality tires and never before have they been so low in price. We sell them at the lowest possible price. Nobody can sell them for less—and no one can sell you so much mileage for so little.

We unqualifiedly stand back of every single one.

JACK JOHNSON IS BACK AGAIN

Dredgeman Who Bends Cell Bars Of Iron With His Hands Can't Stand City Boom—Two Drunks Cost Him Just $15.

In again, out again, back again that's Jack Johnson, dredgeman, and generally all around strong man, who bends the iron bars of the cells in the city hall with his hands, but can't stand a glass of Kingston's booze. So far during his stay in Kingston it has cost Jack $15 in fines, not counting what he had to pay for the booze he slipped down his throat. And to look at Jack, one would wonder where his strength comes from for he does not weigh over 140 pounds and is of slight build.

To add the last chapter to Jack's career—that is the last chapter up to the time this was written—it is necessary to go back and give a synopsis of Jack's Kingston career. The big government dredge arrived in Rondout creek late Saturday night Sunday afternoon early Jack was arrested for public intoxication, and placed in a cell in the city hall. At about 7:40 o'clock Jack bent the bars of the cell door and crawled through to freedom but was overhauled and caught near the city hall. Monday morning he paid a fine of $5 and was discharged. Monday evening about 7 o'clock the telephone in police headquarters rang and a voice said that there were two drunks on Ferry street leaning up against the Hildebrand restaurant and that they could not be classed as ornaments. Officers Reardon and Murphy picked up the drunks who proved to be Jack and his pal, Bill McCarthy, another dredgeman.

They were placed in separate cells, and Jack's cell was not the one he escaped from. To make sure that he would have two floors to break through the outer door leading out into the corridor was also closed and locked for the night.

This morning in police court Bill was fined $5 and paid, and Jack, facing the court for the second time in forty-eight hours, threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was fined $10 however, as it was his second offense.

When found Monday evening both were sprawled out on the sidewalk asleep and neither could see why the police were so cruel as to disturb their slumbers.

UPPER SILESIA HAS NEW RIOTS

By Telegram to The Freeman

Berlin July 26.—Fighting has again broken out in Upper Silesia, according to a Breslau dispatch to the Allgemeine Zeitung today.

Six Germans were wounded in a clash with Polish insurgents.

A general strike has been proclaimed at Rybnik.

The Poles were said to be the aggressors.

The Polish insurgents have seized the Biraw-Zergowitz railway. A number of railway stations were set on fire.

The Breslau-Ratibor express could not make its regular trip on account of damage to the line.

London, July 26.—The French were reported today to have cancelled their plans for sending reinforcements into Upper Silesia as a result of the protests of the British and the refusal of the British to send more troops.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that an agreement between Great Britain and France over Upper Silesia is pending and that the supreme council will meet between August 1 and August 4 to consider the Silesian issue.

The British experts who, with French experts, have been studying the boundary question in Upper Silesia will participate in the supreme council meeting.

COURT ORDERS SMALL ARRESTED

Clash Between Illinois Judiciary and Governor Who Refuses to Submit to Arrest on Indictment Charging Embezzlement of Vast Sums Comes To Head.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Springfield, Illinois, July 26.—Governor Len Small of Illinois today was ordered arrested on charges involving misuse of state interest funds.

His arrest was ordered by Circuit Court Judge E. S. Smith, in a decision denying the right of a governor to immunity from the state criminal code. Warrants charging the governor with a confidence game, embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud, involving $2,500,000, were in the hands of Circuit Court Clerk Charles L. Koehn when Judge Smith handed down his informal decision.

They were to be given to Sheriff Harry Meester for immediate service. Meester said he would make his first attempt at service by telephone to the governor's secretary asking that the governor submit himself to arrest at the sheriff's office.

"I shall give him sufficient time to decide his course of action," added Meester.

"If the governor absolutely ignores your request what will you do?" the sheriff was asked.

"I shall not use force until every other effort has failed. I shall simply carry out the law. The governor, I think, will not oppose the law," he replied.

"If every other measure failed I would consider carefully before using force," he added.

NO SINN FEIN DECISION YET

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dublin, July 26.—Another full session of the Sinn Fein cabinet to consider the British peace terms was held today with Eamonn De Valera present.

De Valera said he would not have a statement for the press for several days.

London, July 26.—The Sinn Fein cabinet at Dublin is now ready for Dail Eireann, (the Sinn Fein parliament) to begin secret debate upon the peace offer of Premier Lloyd-George according to advices from Dublin today.

All of the developments of the past twenty-four hours have been of such a nature as to increase rather than diminish optimism.

Premier Lloyd-George announced in the House of Commons that the Irish armistice would continue, pending resumption of the negotiations between Eamonn De Valera and the English government. This indicated that the premier is hopeful that a satisfactory reply will be received from De Valera and that a general peace parley ultimately will be arranged.

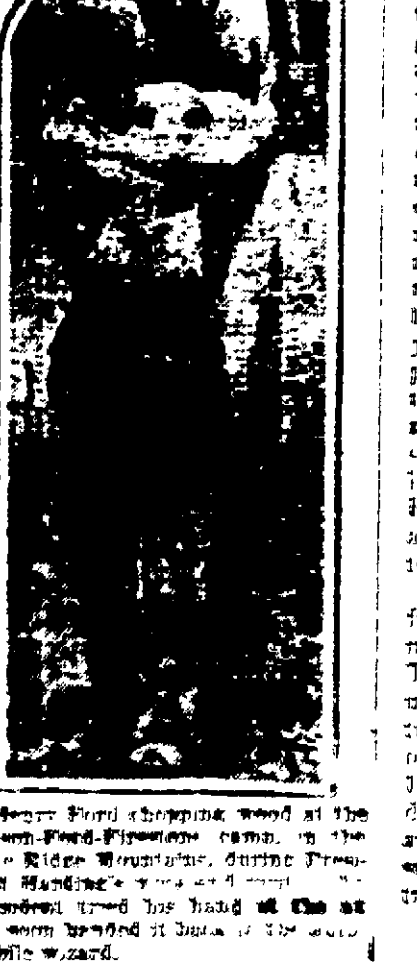

While the Irish Bulletin, the official organ of the Irish republicans, declared that the Sinn Fein would be content with nothing less than independence, it was pointed out that independence could be achieved under the dominion form of government.

The Irish republican army chiefs and the commander of the Crown forces in Ireland are reported to have reached an agreement, upon alleged violations of the truce by the English.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

Buy constructively.

This would be a very good slogan for the people of America to adopt today, for there is just as much thrift in correct buying as there is in correct saving.

At the present time the country is in need of greater business activity.

The wheels of industry that are now still cannot be made to revolve again, however, and the workmen who are now out of employment cannot be put back on their old jobs unless the people of the country spend more money. But the spending must be along rational lines if it is to help the situation. Money spent for purposes that are wasteful will not make matters better.

At present we are suffering from the natural reaction of immediate post-war extravagance. To have brought an end to the unwholesome economic conditions that existed from the fall of 1918 until the summer of 1920, was laudable, but the period has swung the other way, and many lines of business are suffering from the excessive rearmament of the people.

To be thrifty is to thrive.

Arrested progress is unwholesome, and the business interests of the country should not be made to suffer the unjust and harmful results of misguided economy.

It is always within the bounds of true thrift to spend money prudently and constructively just as it is never thrifty under any circumstances to spend money wastefully.

There is a happy medium between extravagance and hoarding. And worldwide conditions today demand the most thoughtful attention along these lines. Progress can only be made where real thrift exists—not only the thrift of prudent saving but the thrift of intelligent spending. If each citizen of this country would study these problems with the view of bringing the general business situation along rational lines, and where he is able to do so, buy constructively, that is, spend for purposes that are not wasteful and which at the same time will help get our idle workmen back to work, he will be performing a real patriotic, up-building thrust.

TELLS OF LIGHTNING ZONES

United States Forest Service Corrects an Impression That Has Become Almost Universal.

It is an old saying that most people are only half-witted. Some are actually contrary to fact.

For instance, there is an ancient story to the effect that "lightning never strikes the same place" twice. It is absolutely untrue.

The United States Forest Service, which spends billions on a program of forest fire control, has been using the "never strikes the same place" story for many years.

It is a frequent target for third details, and has to be corrected. A high mountain top is sure to be struck frequently by lightning. But even if it is struck the first time, it will have a lightning strike some time later.

Often a lightning bolt strikes a tree and sets it on fire. The fire spreads and soon burns to the ground, leaving a charred stump. Sometimes trees are struck in large numbers on mountain tops.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE SEALING WAX.

"It's all very well," said the sealing wax, "for people to talk about their friendship with other people and how they'll stick to them through thick and thin, but I'm the kind of friend that sticks fast, too."

"What do you mean when you say that people stick through thick and thin?" asked the match which had just been struck and which had lighted the candle which had made the sealing wax stick to the back of the envelope which was lying on the desk.

"I don't understand anything like that," said the match. "Do you mean that people stick together whether they are thick or fat as well as whether they're thin?"

"I do not mean anything like that," said the sealing wax.

"It is an old expression," the sealing wax continued, "and it means that people will be true and loyal to each other in good weather and in bad weather."

"Gracious me," said the match. "Do you mean to tell me, sealing wax, that there are some people who only care for their friends when the sun shines or perhaps when the day is without a cloud in the sky?"

"Or are there people who only care for other people when it's summer time because they do not care for the heat?"

"Or are there people who consider the winter has the best kind of weather and so are only fond of their friends in the winter time?"

"Is that what you mean, sealing wax?"

"No," said the sealing wax, "that is not what I mean."

"Then do explain," said the match.

"I will," said the sealing wax.

"I mean," the sealing wax continued, "that when people are loyal to each other whether they're happy or whether they're gay and whether they feel sunshiny or rainy are the kind of people one speaks of as sticking through thick and thin, or through bad weather or as well as good weather. Perhaps I should say that they speak of their friends as sticking to them through bad days as well as good days, meaning that nothing makes any difference to their friendship."

"I don't know whether they speak of sticking to their friends through all sorts of weather or all sorts of days. But the fact remains that the old expression does mean that people who are real friends stick together through thick and thin, and that, in turn, means that people who are real friends stick together through everything! Everything!"

"But I stick fast, too. I stick to the envelope and I won't come off."

"Sticking plaster sticks fast, too," said the match. "Sticking plaster must make an excellent friend."

"That's so," said the sealing wax.

"But, of course, when all is said and done I don't suppose friendship simply means sticking to anything. I suppose friendship means something more than that."

"I suppose so," said the burnt match. "I suppose so."

"But sometimes you drop on a person's finger," the match went on, "and that isn't pleasant for the person. Oh, yes, someone used some of the sealing wax from your tail pencil-like shape and had quite a little burn."

"Oh, yes," said the sealing wax. "But it made no difference because the grease family is always ready to help in a case like that."

"There is old Butter Boy—he loves to cure people of any pain they may have from burning themselves. And all of the grease family are the same way."

"Yes, the grease family helps that way," said the match. "They make up for some of the harm members of my family do at times, too. We're apt to give little burns once in awhile. When creatures play with us we do things like that. We matches don't like to be played with. We're rather dangerous; in fact, we can be very dangerous if we want to be. And we're apt to want to be, too."

"Well, good-by, sealing wax. I see you're off on a journey."

"Good-by," said the sealing wax. "I'm going traveling with this letter to some place or other."

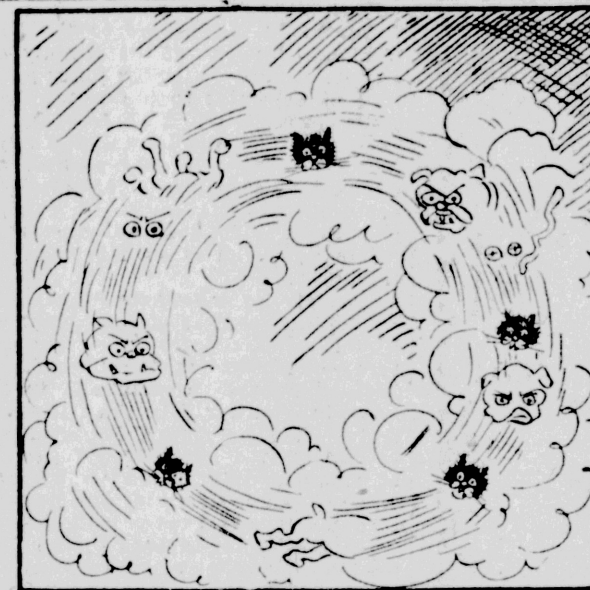

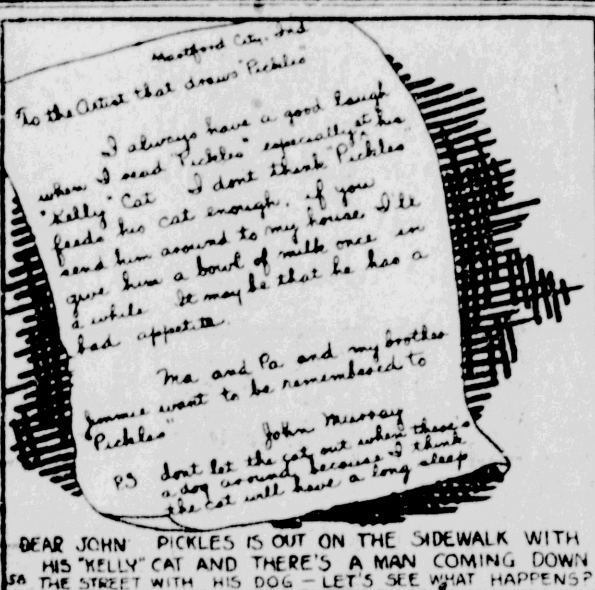

Struck for Longer Hours.

"Why must I always go to bed at a certain time?" complained a little Brooklyn boy. "I don't belong to any union."

What is Success?

C. W. Nash writes: "Real success is the realization of an ambition to build or to accomplish something worth while and lasting. It is the achievement itself which brings the greater reward of satisfaction, not the money it may amass."

The Quick and Easy Way To Make Blackberry Jam

MAKES TWO-THIRDS MORE JAM FROM SAME AMOUNT OF FRUIT, AND NEVER FAILS

Uses Ripe Fruit, Takes Only One Minute's Boiling, and Saves All the Flavor and Color

Everyone who likes fresh blackberry pie will love good blackberry jam. Particularly when all the flavor of fresh, ripe blackberries is preserved in the jam. Such blackberry jam is now possible in every home.

A new and never failing method has now been discovered with which anyone can make the best quality quickly and very economically. With the Certo Process full-ripe blackberries are used—not unripe blackberries so necessary by the old method. The Certo Process retains all the rich flavor of this ripe fruit because it requires only one minute's boiling—not the 30 or more minutes required by the old method. This long boiling-down, of course, destroys juice and flavor, and particularly kills the real blackberry taste. With Certo, therefore, the result is a far superior fruit flavor and two-thirds more jam from the same amount of fruit, because no juice is boiled away. It also banishes all guesswork or worry as perfect results are certain.

The Certo Process for making blackberry jam is very simple. Measure 4 cups (2 lbs.) of crushed blackberries into large preserving kettle, add 3 heaping cups (3 lbs.) of sugar, and mix well with fruit. Bring to a vigorous boil, stirring constantly, and boil hard for one minute. Remove from fire, and add ½ bottle (scant ½ cup) of Certo while stirring. Let stand one minute and skim. Then let stand with occasional stirring for 5 minutes longer to cool slightly and pour into glasses. Makes 3½ pints or 10 half-pound glasses of jam. To make Certo blackberry jelly see Certo Book of Recipes.

Certo is a pure fruit product—contains no gelatine or preservative. It positively saves time, fruit, flavor of ripe fruit, and guesswork. It makes all kinds of jams and jellies with fresh or canned fruit—some you have never made before. It is highly endorsed by all cooking experts who have used it. Every woman who tries it recommends it to her friends and says she'll never be without it. And Certo jams and jellies keep as well as any ever made. Get a bottle of Certo and a recipe book from your grocer or druggist at once. For extra free copies of Certo Book of Recipes, write Pecton Sales Co., Inc., 360 East Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Start the new—the sure, quick, economical way of making jams and jellies. You'll never return to the old "hit or miss" method.

DOMINOES AT
"THE" JOHNSTON'S

Those reminiscences about John Johnston's billiard room upstairs in the Crosby building on Wall street, "that some old-timer told a Kingston policeman and a Freeman reporter, that he wrote up Friday night, were true—every word," said another old-timer to the same reporter on Saturday. "Wonder why he didn't tell him something about the domino games that used to be played in the barroom down stairs in front of that counter the most delicious fried clams were served free every Saturday night by Johnston and afterward by Peter Burhans, who succeeded him. The latter kept up the custom and sold the same high class brands of drinkables that his predecessor did. Gosh, the way those fried clams disappeared from the big platters after they were brought in was a caution. The auto field who makes a practice to exceed the speed limit has got nothing on the speed in which some of those chaps grabbed at those hot clams. One chap got it down so fast he could grab two in each hand and at the same time snap a couple up each sleeve. I'll tell he was a wonder."

"Thought you was going to tell me about those domino games," said the reporter to the old-timer.

"Maybe they won't interest you, cause most of those old domino players are dead and you don't know 'em, but I guess there are still a few around who'll remember them," remarked the old-timer. "There were quite a number of good domino players that used to go to The's and Peter Burhans's back 20 to 40 years ago. There was Bill Styles, a house painter, who lived on Prospect street, and Frederick L. Westbrook, a big lawyer in his day, whom his friends addressed as Fred, and they used to play what was called draw game with the dominoes. They each drew four pieces at first, one would set one, then the other would match one to it, and then the settler would draw a handful, and the other would do the same. After matching two or three each, drawing a number now and then until all the dominoes were in their hands or standing up on end or side before them, eight or ten each. Fred would say to Bill, or Bill to Fred, pushing his dominoes back into a pack, 'All you can get is six or some other number,' and then the other would say 'Yop,' and after the count was credited on the slate by the one keeping score, new hands would be drawn and playing continued after the style of the first hand until one or the other got 50. This meant that the one with the lowest score was stuck for a cigar or a milk punch. Fred and Bill always drank milk punches with a little brandy in 'em. Gosh, couldn't they play that game, because they knew from what they had in their hand what had been played just what the other fellow had and could play, because they matched them in their mind."

"The game that was played the most was block game," said the old-timer. "It was played with seven pieces in the hand of each player, being mostly four-handed games, as then all of the 28 pieces in the pack were out. Chauncey Stewart who for years bought cattle on the hoof and slaughtered them selling the dressed beef to butchers long before there was any beef trust, would drive down from his home way up Lucas avenue every evening to play dominoes at The Johnston's. He was one of the best block game players around. Silie Elmendorf who also dealt in cattle was another regular at The's, but while he was good at block he preferred to play rounce. Jim Morrow hardly ever missed a night but what he'd come from Higginsville to play, and on Saturday nights he'd come up after his father's grocery store closed, get shaved and then play block until midnight. Johnston always closed at 12 o'clock and never kept his place open on a Sunday. Gil Smith, Bob Smith, Will Rodie, Wash Peck, Sox, Sharpe, Tinney, Hummer, Charley Cooper, Jim Winne, Major Will Vallette, Major Al Carr, Major Al Tanner, Luke Noone and Robert Mallen the tobacco maker were among other old time domino players preferring block game. Charley O'Neil, Doc, Vary, Case, Ronda, Hank Hermance and a few others liked to play rounce, bound to kill, that is, the one who played a piece higher than the one played if he had one higher in his hand. This was a good game for the house as the games were five cent games and some ten cent games, the one getting stuck in a five-cent game had to pay 25 cents and in a ten cent game it cost 50 cents for the drinks or cigars. Once in a while some of the players would kick the player next to him with his foot under the table if they were in league, thus tripping him not to play too high a piece in order to prevent the kicker from being rounced. Case Roosa knew that this had been going on and whenever a certain two of the regular rounce players were in a game and asked Mr. Roosa to come into the game he would say, when sitting down to the table, 'Now, no rounce; no rounce; no rounce, or I won't play.' If there was any indication of any suspicious plays on the part of these two players, Case would get up and leave the table."

The old-timer who had been reminiscing about the domino games said that another game that was played was muggins, but he said this was considered a woman's game and was seldom played. "The dominoes were matched and the clams counted by five, ten fifteen or twenty," when added, that is if double-five was set it would count ten the double-six on one end and the double-four on the other would make twenty, or the double-six on one end and a three on the other end would make fifteen, and so in combinations that would add by fives. Towards the last when Peter Burhans owned the cafe, once in a while double muggins was played on the ends of the doubles as well as on the ends.

They had only dealt the cards when The noticed them and in less than two minutes they were out on the street. They never tried any more card playing in there after that. If there was one thing more than do, or allow his bartender to do, was to sell anyone a drink that showed signs of intoxication," said the old-timer.

"As there is no domino playing going on around here I think I will go over to the Republican Club rooms on Fair street," remarked the old-timer who had talked so interestingly about old time domino players. STORY OF THE BIG PAGEANT

To Be Given In Forsyth Park By 500 Children Wednesday Afternoon At 3:30 O'clock—The Names Of More Of Those Participating.

One of the big features of the state Pythian convention here this week is the big pageant "Damon and Pythias" to be given by five hundred children of the city at Forsyth Park Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock under the auspices of the recreation department of the city.

The pageant will open with a welcome scene, the children having boxes about their bodies bearing large letters, which when formed will announce, "Welcome, Knights of Pythias."

There will also be three tableaux, entitled "Friendship," "Benevolence" and "Charity." Then will come the pageant, the program of which is as follows:

Scene opens by gathering of populace to witness celebration ordered by Dionysius, King of Greece. At the hour set for beginning of celebration, two heralds are heard blowing the trumpet announcing the approach of the king, his guards and the Grecian senate. The king, guards, senate and more guards, march to seats of honor, where they are entertained by a drill of the guards and series of Grecian dances by nimble maidens who appear from the populace.

While the dancing is going on the senator, Damon of Syracuse, is noticed to leave his seat and to walk among the populace talking and gestulating. It is noticed that the people shake their heads and agree to everything that Damon seems to be saying. This is seen to anger Dionysius, he stands, waves his hands—the people bow down in homage, he then turns—gives order to guards to arrest Damon, the senator of Syracuse. This is done and Damon is brought before Dionysius the King from whence he is ordered cast in a dungeon. The soldiers then march away with Damon. After which the people again bow low to the king as the guards and king march away. The people then disperse quietly.

Then follows the trial of Damon. In the face of popular opposition, the king pronounces the sentence of death and Damon is taken away and cast into prison. Pythias goes to Dionysius and offers to take the place of Damon, his friend, while Damon is allowed to take a last farewell of his wife and children. Dionysius, in satirical mood, consents to the sacrifice of Pythias for Damon.

The execution scene follows, in which Damon arrives just as Pythias is to be executed, rushes to take his place at the block, and Dionysius, at last convinced of the reality of true friendship, pardons both amidst popular rejoicings.

In addition to the names of the children already given as taking part in the pageant there will be the following boys who will take the part of soldiers:

Charles Port, Don Robins, Louis Port, Arthur Chipp, Warren Chipp, Harold Boice, Stephen Hyatt, Emerson Mayes, Barton Streeter, Wallace Buley, Augustus Buncie, Kendall Every, Joe Lechive, Bud Partian, Donald Schoonmaker.

Serve Iced coffee this way

Pour freshly brewed coffee, piping hot, over cracked ice. Be sure to use plenty of ice for iced coffee is only at its best when thoroughly chilled. Make your coffee a trifle stronger than ordinarily to offset the cream and sugar after chilling; never before.

For luncheon or dinner, party or picnic there's no drink so refreshing or satisfying as iced coffee.

A thermos bottle filled with iced coffee just touches the thirst spot.

There's one particular coffee to use in making iced coffee—Reliance—the coffee that tastes as good as it smells.

Be guided in your coffee buying by the rich, full bodied aroma of Reliance. It's a sure test of coffee quality.

INDORSEMENT
OF SERVICE
CHARGE

The Public Service Commission for the Second District of New York, which has been superseded by a new regulating body, often declared its belief in the propriety, fairness, reasonableness and legality of a service charge. Declaring in one of its later decisions that:—

"It is but just that each customer should only pay for what he receives, and the imposition of a service charge on all alike to cover those items which apply to all alike seems best calculated to attain that end."

It went on to cite thirteen state commissions as having approved this principle, asserting that there seemed to be no contrary decision.

SMALL TOWN STUFF.

Noah W. Cooper, chairman of the Southern Methodist Sabbath School, heads a delegation of 25 other crusaders to Washington, with a petition to Congress urging a simple remedy guaranteed to heal the world's diseases. All we need to do is to pass a Federal law forbidding the carrying of passengers, freight, newspapers and all mails in interstate trains, shutting up all post offices, and prohibiting all mail deliveries on Sunday and all amusements and business for profit. Just do this, and we shall purge ourselves of sin and be at peace. All things will then be added unto us. We need not trouble ourselves with a disarmament conference, or even worry over the momentous question as to whether a cooperative effort of nations to check wars shall be called a (Wilson) League or a (Harding) Association. As a sample of Mr. Cooper's enlightened reasoning, he says that Europe wickedly sought recreation after its Sunday morning services and thus desecrating the Sabbath "God's fury broke upon it in the World War."

The Cooper delegation is important only as a symptom of the provincialism and narrowness of view that contribute so largely toward the making of this country's laws. The Congressman from the small town or village in the Middle West, the South, the Far West—the kind of town unparaphrased in "Main Street"—has an enormous influence in the national forum because he is supposed to speak for "the farmers" and "the churches." His ideas do not range beyond a small provincial neighborhood. He is not really aware of this vast country as a whole, let alone of Europe, and the nations with which unavoidably we must have dealings—dealings which ought to be as intelligent and just as those of educated Christian gentlemen with each other. Ought to be, but too often are not. The influence on legislation of Gopher Prairie, Pecos Trot and other provincial neighborhoods of our vast interior, boastfully self-sufficient and seeing only some inches beyond their noses, helps to explain many things otherwise inexplicable.

The lunatic immigration law, for example, which holds up at our gates distinguished foreigners even when they are American homes and famous artists who have contracts to appear in our opera houses and theaters, to say nothing of the tragic distress continually brought upon deserving folk of less renown. Then there is the emergency tariff law requiring American officials to go to the offices of foreign manufacturers whose goods come to this country to examine their books. What matter that the Paris Chamber of Commerce has promptly and unanimously declared that no French merchant or manufacturer will open his books to the agents of any foreign government whatsoever? If they don't like it, let them take the consequences. Of course, if European nations applied such rules to American exporters, or embarrassed with like restrictions Americans going abroad, a fury of indignation would sweep this country. But that is quite a different matter. All the privileges are ours of right and will be demanded, but foreign nations and foreigners—what are they but disgusting vine-bibbers, anyhow?—have no rights which Gopher Prairie and Pecos Trot are bound to recognize or respect.

The American people spend five billions annually on luxuries and amusements, a billion going to the movies and theatres, half a billion for ice cream, soda water, etc., and taxes of a billion and a half being paid merely for the pleasure of chewing gum. In consequence the Thrift Division of the Treasury Department has instituted a campaign to discourage the indiscriminate buying of non-essentials, but in all probability will accomplish little. As long as people have money in their pockets none of them are apt to regard what they want as essential.

In delivering his series of lectures before the Institute of Politics during the session at Williams College, Vermont, James Bryce says he will "re-iterate refrain from discussing current politics," which will be wise.

PYTHIAN GRAND LODGE SESSIONS FORMALLY BEGUN

Grand Lodge Rank Conferred On Largest Class Of Past Chancellors, One of Them 83 Years Old, This Morning.

The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the state of N. Y. was opened in ritualistic form at the assembly hall of Kingston Lodge of Elks at the Elks' club house on Fair street at 10:30 o'clock this morning by Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield, Jr., of this city.

After the opening of the lodge, the appointment was announced of Past Supreme Representative Henry Lemmermann as acting grand prelate, in place of Grand Prelate O'Connor of Utica, who was absent by reason of attending the funeral of several returned grand lodge sessions, however, on Wednesday.

Grand Chancellor Canfield also announced the appointment of committees on sub-divisions and references, resolutions, and policy. Pythian Sisters, guests. Tellers also were appointed, together with the reading clerk and journal clerk.

The hours of the sessions of the grand lodge were fixed at from 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The grand lodge rank was conferred on a class of 102 past chancellors, this being the largest class on which the degree has been conferred in several years. The ceremonies were conducted by Past Supreme Representative Henry Lemmermann, the dean of the order.

A very unusual incident was the conferring of the rank upon a Pythian Past Chancellor who is 83 years old. He was Brother James Parise of Yonkers Lodge, No. 265, K. of P., of Yonkers. Brother Parise is a veteran of three American wars. He was given a big ovation by the grand lodge which accorded him the grand lodge honors.

A resolution was adopted designating Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock as the time for holding the annual memorial service. The services will be held in the First Reformed Church and will be in charge of the committee on necrology. The eulogy will be delivered by Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel. This will be a joint service of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters.

A telegram of greeting was received from Past Supreme Chancellor Thomas J. Carling, and other greetings were received from several of the Pythian domains.

At the presentation of resolutions, petitions, etc., there were presented and read thirty-four documents, which were referred to the respective committees and otherwise disposed of in accordance with the wishes of the grand lodge.

Several of the resolutions related to new legislation and were referred to the committee on laws and will come up in sequence later for action by the grand lodge.

Royal Vicer Harold Roosevelt will be glad to receive applications of candidates desirous of taking the degree of the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, which will be conferred on Wednesday evening at the close of the Pythian parade in the lodge rooms of Franklin Lodge, No. 37, Knights of Pythias.

At 12:30 o'clock the grand lodge recessed until two o'clock this afternoon.

Despite the unceasing efforts of the physicians and trained nurses, Mrs. John A. On Friday evening, July 15, however, she was seized with a chill and this was followed by pleurisy and pneumonia and in her weakened condition, was unable to resist its progress and her demise ensued. No sadder or more sorrowful death than this one has occurred in Saratoga in the past few years, and the whole community is grief-stricken and deeply condolees with the surviving husband, five young children, the four sisters and brother in the great affliction that has come so unexpectedly to them. Mrs. Martin, although not in the best of health for a long time, possessed a winsome and happy disposition. She was amiable in manner, lovable in companionship and domestic in her tastes. She was devoted to her family and friends and was esteemed highly by all. Her death in the midst of her usefulness and young womanhood is a calamity to her loved ones and friends. Deceased was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, and active in its work, and her death will create in the organization as it has in her home, a vacancy that cannot be filled. Mrs. Martin was in the 53rd year of her age.

MAURETANIA'S DAMAGE $200,000

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, July 26.—It will be several months before the Cunard liner Mauretania, which was swept by fire at her dock at Southampton yesterday, can be reconditioned and replaced in the trans-Atlantic service. It was stated today by representatives of the Cunard line.

Three decks were swept by the flames, including the library, lounge and reading room.

Firemen were on duty at the Cunard pier at Southampton all night pouring water on the smoldering liner.

It is believed that the fire originated from a cigarette carelessly thrown away by a workman who was cleaning the state rooms.

It was unofficially estimated this afternoon that the damage to the Mauretania is $200,000, and that it might take six months instead of three to re-fit her.

FOR YOUNG WOMEN TO PONDER OVER

Many girls in Kingston and elsewhere who have finished their schooling are now, after a month's vacation, facing the question "How shall I earn my living?"

And some older girls, who have not had to maintain themselves, and have been out of school some years, find it irksome at home without regular occupation, and to them, too, comes the question, "What can I do?"

The cities are full of unemployed trained workers in all sorts of lines find themselves out of positions. This is not an encouraging prospect for girls who are planning for self-support. They want to feel sure that after spending time and money in preparation for a certain line of work, that there will be such work for them to do when they graduate.

Let a girl who is puzzling over this problem answer these three questions:

1. Would you like to prepare yourself for a position that is open and ready for you and that pays more money than many other lines of work for women?

2. Would you like to take up a work which not only will cost you nothing at all to learn, but offers room, board, books and allowance for clothes during the training period?

3. Would you like to have your life work such that you can take vacations just when you please, stop work for a week or two when you feel disinclined for it, and take it up again whenever you wish?

It sounds too good to be true, but there actually is such work open to any woman between the ages of 18 and 35 who has had schooling equivalent to one year in high school.

What is it? Nursing. Here is a profession which offers to young women opportunities which no other work affords. The graduates of the big training schools in New York command no larger pay than those of the Kingston City Hospital. In fact, the smaller training school has decided advantages over the large ones. Here are some of them:

There is individual rather than class training. A pupil nurse is not kept for months at a time on a certain line of work without change. She has a varied experience in both medical and surgical work with unusual opportunities at obstetrical service.

She has frequent chances to witness accident cases and emergency work to which all pupil nurses in the Kingston hospital are admitted. The special children's ward gives her experience in that line to which is added a three months' service in Bellevue Hospital, New York, in children's work alone, this being included in the course of our institution.

In the Kingston City Hospital a pupil nurse has a varied operating room service, and is given a turn at being a surgeon's assistant, which is invaluable to her after graduation.

Besides training in the practical work of nursing, the students hear lectures from physicians, surgeons and specialists and receive instruction in the keeping of charts, writing of orders and administrative work.

Senior nurses in our training school are in charge of the wards. This is an experience never obtained in the big hospitals where the wards are supervised by graduate nurses only.

There are just now a few vacancies in the Kingston City Hospital.

"CHEWING HIS HEAD OFF"

Because He Won Bet From Fellow Employee.

The Texaco Star, a monthly magazine printed at Houston, Texas, for employees of Texas Company, which has a station in this city for the distribution of petroleum and its products, in the July number mentions W. F. Bilyou, agent at Kingston, in its honor roll of 100 per cent collection efficiency men. It also prints the following: "We understand that there is a certain 'Texacoite' at Kingston, N. Y., whose jaws are working overtime. No, we don't mean that he is trying out for a phonograph record, but he is endeavoring to use up five perfectly good pounds of Mullen's chewing tobacco. The cause of the cramp in Bill McCloud's jaw is a certain bet made with Frank Kenny, also of Kingston station. When Frank took the plunge into matrimony on June 5, 1920, he rashly made a bet with Bill. A youngster was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenny on May 24, 1921, and Bill won the bet. We now know why tobacco is called 'Lady Nicotine.' What are you going to name the little girl, Frank?"

PYTHIAN GRAND LODGE SESSIONS FORMALLY BEGUN

Grand Lodge Rank Conferred On Largest Class Of Past Chancellors, One of Them 83 Years Old, This Morning.

The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the state of N. Y. was opened in ritualistic form at the assembly hall of Kingston Lodge of Elks at the Elks' club house on Fair street at 10:30 o'clock this morning by Grand Chancellor Palmer Canfield, Jr., of this city.

After the opening of the lodge, the appointment was announced of Past Supreme Representative Henry Lemmermann as acting grand prelate, in place of Grand Prelate O'Connor of Utica, who was absent by reason of attending the funeral of a returned soldier. He is expected at the grand lodge sessions, however, on Wednesday.

Grand Chancellor Canfield also announced the appointment of committees on sub-division and references, resolutions, and story. Pythian Sisters, guests, tellers also were appointed, together with the reading clerk and journal clerk.

The hours of the sessions of the grand lodge were fixed at from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The grand lodge rank was conferred on a class of 192 past chancellors, this being the largest class on which the degree has been conferred in several years. The ceremonies were conducted by Past Supreme Representative Henry Lemmermann, the dean of the order.

A very unusual incident was the conferring of the rank upon a Pythian Past Chancellor who is 83 years old. He was Brother James Persie of Yonkers Lodge, No. 265, K. of P. of Yonkers. Brother Persie is a veteran of three American wars. He was given a big ovation by the grand lodge which accorded him the grand lodge honors.

A resolution was adopted designating Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock as the time for holding the annual memorial service. The service will be held in the First Reformed Church and will be in charge of the committee on necrology. The eulogy will be delivered by Past Grand Chancellor Charles W. Endel. This will be a joint service of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters.

A telegram of greeting was received from Past Supreme Chancellor Thomas J. Carling, and other greetings were received from several of the Pythian domains.

At the presentation of resolutions, petitions, etc., there were presented and read thirty-four documents, which were referred to the respective committees and otherwise disposed of in accordance with the wishes of the grand lodge. Several of them related to new legislation and were referred to the committee on laws and will come up in sequence later and for action by the grand lodge.

Royal Visitor Harold Rouse will be glad to receive applications of candidates desirous of taking the degree of the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, which will be conferred on Wednesday evening at the close of the Pythian parade in the lodge rooms of Franklin Lodge, No. 37, Knights of Pythias.

At 12:30 o'clock the grand lodge recessed until two o'clock this afternoon.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

William Blakesley, an old and respected resident of Westkill, died last week at his home, where Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blakesley made their home. The funeral was held in the Westkill church and the interment was in Westkill.

Dr. Robert Selden, for many years health officer of the town of Catskill and a practicing physician for the past forty years, died Sunday at the Samaritan Hospital, Troy. Dr. Selden was well known fraternally being a Master Mason for over fifty years. Funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in the Jefferson Rural cemetery.

Despite the unceasing efforts of the physicians and trained nurses, Mrs. John A. Martin, who had been critically ill at her home on Market street, Saratoga, for one week, died about 10 o'clock Saturday evening. Pleuro-pneumonia and pericarditis was the cause of her death. On July 3, Mrs. Martin gave birth to a baby girl and from this she had recovered slowly and had been sitting up. On Friday evening, July 15, however, she was seized with a chill and this was followed by pleurisy and pneumonia and in her weakened condition, was unable to resist its progress and her demise ensued. No sadder or more sorrowful death than this one has occurred in Saratoga in the past few years, and the whole community is grief-stricken, and deeply condoles with the surviving husband, five young children, the four sisters and brother in the great affliction that has come so unexpectedly to them. Mrs. Martin although not in the best of health for a long time, possessed a warm and happy disposition. She was amiable in nature, lovable in companionship and devoted in her family and friends and was ever ready to help by all her death in the midst of her affliction and some consolation in a calamity to her loved ones and friends. Deceased was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, and active in its work, and her death will create in the organization as it has in her home a vacancy that cannot be filled. Mrs. Martin was in the 52nd year of her age.

Mrs. C. L. Elmore, past grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, of Brooklyn, is visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Lowe of Cottage Row, also attending the grand lodge convention.

Howard Alton of No. 52 Staples street, who was badly burned about the face while at work on a Cornell tug undergoing repairs at the Hiltz boat shipyard, has recovered and resumed his duties at the Cornell shops.

George Felix De Grosse of New York city and Brooklyn, was the weekend visitor at the home of his daughter Mrs. Charles Beck. On Monday Mrs. Beck and her children, son and daughter, accompanied him to Kingston Point where he took the Bay Lane boat for his home.

Sale At Elkins. Mrs. J. Elkins is having a special sale at her jewelry store at 24 Broadway.

Members of Franklin Lodge, K. of P., met at lodge room for parade, which started Wednesday evening.

MAURETANIA'S DAMAGE $200,000

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, July 25.—It will be several months before the Cunard liner Mauretania, which was swept by fire at her dock at Southampton yesterday, can be reconditioned and replaced in the trans-Atlantic service. It was stated today by representatives of the Cunard line.

Three decks were swept by the flames, including the library, lounge and reading room.

Firemen were on duty at the Cunard pier at Southampton all night pouring water on the smoldering liner.

It is believed that the fire originated from a cigarette carelessly thrown away by a workman who was cleaning the state room.

It was unofficially estimated this afternoon that the damage to the Mauretania is $200,000, and that it might take six months instead of three to re-fit her.

COLONIALS WILL PLAY 2 GAMES

Saturday the Albany Duns will play the locals at the Athletic Field. This will make the third of the series, each team having won a game.

PYTHIAN SISTERS NUMBER 5,816

In New York State, a Gain of 583 for Year. Report of Grand Chief Emma Tower Shows—Increasing Interest Shown in Temples.

The annual address of Grand Chief Emma Tower at the session of the Pythian Sisters' convention at the Elks' clubhouse today, reviewed the work accomplished during the year. The reports of all the temples showed a great increase of interest both as to membership and finances. Some of the temples had raised $500 during the year. She spoke feelingly of the appreciation she had for the assistance which had been rendered during the year by the various committees, by the past grand chiefs and her deputies throughout the state. At the present time there are 68 temples in the state, a gain of nine during the year. Their total membership is 5,816, which is a gain during the year of 583 members.

John Simons of New York city presented the grand temple with a magnificent tea and coffee silver set of four pieces, and to Grand Chief Tower on behalf of Martha Washington Temple of New York and himself he presented a handsome filigree silver basket. He spoke of the admiration he had for the temple and expressed his enthusiasm for the work which the Pythian Sisters are conducting, promising his hearty cooperation in all its efforts.

The temple decided to gather rays of sunshine to brighten the days of Past Grand Chief Lida E. Palmer of Brooklyn, who has been ill for a number of months. This is the first session of the temple which she has been unable to attend in twenty-eight years. She was a member of the first temple and during all the years of her active service for the Pythian Sisters she has been highly regarded not only by the grand temple but also by the supreme lodge and the supreme temple. The sunshine basket took the form of a silver offering to which Brother Simons made a generous addition, and the sundial remembrance will be forwarded to Sister Palmer.

Grand officers present and occupying their stations and positions of honor in the temple session included Past Grand Chief Ida Miller of Fort Plain, Grand Chief Emma Tower of Gloversville, Grand Senior Mary Forrester of Richmond Hill, Grand Junior Emma Ray of Garfield, Grand Manager Minnie Stable of Syracuse, Grand Mistress of Records and Correspondence Lizzie Frerichs of Tottenville, Grand Mistress of Finance Annie DuBois of Tottenville, Grand Protector Gwendolyn Coe of Oswego, Grand Officer Guard Sarah Cornick of Schenectady, Past Grand Chief Emma R. Miller of Schenectady, Supreme Junior Lucy F. Munson, Supreme Representative Florence Robinson of Schenectady, and Past Grand Chiefs Minnie G. Laux, Melvina Coffin, Emily J. Hills, Anna Hainer, Kate Russell, Susie Cronk, Josephine Ackerman, Ida Turner Coolidge, Anna Forrester, Margaret Tibbals, Minnie Ayers, Ida Hiltz, Margaret Elmore, Emma Stryker, Jennie Overbach, Ananda Marilli, Lena Bechtold, Elizabeth Sullivan, Emily Renfeldt and Anna Earle.

The temple recessed at 12:30 o'clock until two o'clock this afternoon.

British Premiers Insistent.

London, July 26.—The British dominion premiers again discussed President Harding's proposed conference during the morning. They are insistent that the dominions continue urging Washington to consent to a preliminary meeting of the ambassadors of the Pacific powers in London. The British dominion premiers would participate in the council if it were held here. There appears to be little likelihood, however, that Washington will consent.

Irish Agreement Reported.

London July 26.—North and south Ireland have already reached an agreement upon the future form of Irish government, according to the Evening News. The newspaper added that some of the Sinn Fein delegates are ready to accept Premier Lloyd-George's terms.

South Ireland is Republican, North Ireland is Unionist.

Trotzky To Fight Famine.

London, July 26.—The pan-Russian central executive committee of Communists have appointed Leon Trotzky dictator with the fullest powers to fight the famine in Russia, said a Central News dispatch from Moscow today.

Like the Pear and Tarts.

The pear and tart is a broken one, thought the stockholder as he gazed at it disconsolately between his lips at a large sale of bread and cheese, reminiscent of the London Morning Post. A miniature alone and gave him a cheery good morning, remarking afterwards that he had a deal of work to do on the pear and tart.

FOR YOUNG WOMEN TO PONDER OVER

Many girls in Kingston and elsewhere who have finished their schooling are now, after a month's vacation, facing the question "How shall I earn my living?"

And some older girls, who have not had to maintain themselves, and have been out of school some years, find it irksome at home without regular occupation, and to them, too, comes the question, "What can I do?"

The cities are full of unemployed. Trained workers in all sorts of lines find themselves out of positions. This is not an encouraging prospect for girls who are planning for self-support. They want to feel sure that after spending time and money in preparation for a certain line of work, that there will be such work for them to do when they graduate.

Let a girl who is puzzling over this problem answer these three questions:

1. Would you like to prepare yourself for a position that is open and ready for you and that pays more money than many other lines of work for women?

2. Would you like to take up a work which not only will cost you nothing at all to learn, but offers room, board, books and allowance for clothes during the training period?

3. Would you like to have your life work such that you can take vacations just when you please, stop work for a week or two when you feel disinclined for it, and take it up again whenever you wish?

It sounds too good to be true, but there actually is such work open to any woman between the ages of 18 and 35 who has had schooling equivalent to one year in high school.

What is it? Nursing. Here is a profession which offers to young women opportunities which no other work affords. The graduates of the big training schools in New York command no longer pay than those of the Kingston City Hospital. In fact, the smaller training school has decided advantages over the large ones. Here are some of them:

There is individual rather than class training. A pupil nurse is not kept for months at a time on a certain line of work without change. She has a varied experience in both medical and surgical work with unusual opportunities at obstetrical service.

She has frequent chances to witness accident cases and emergency work to which all pupil nurses in the Kingston hospital are admitted. The special children's ward gives her experience in that line to which is added a three months' service in Bellevue Hospital, New York, in children's work alone, this being included in the course of our institution.

In the Kingston City Hospital a pupil nurse has a varied operating room service, and is given a turn at being a surgeon's assistant, which is invaluable to her after graduation.

Besides training in the practical work of nursing, the students hear lectures from physicians, surgeons and specialists and receive instruction in the keeping of charts, writing of orders and administrative work.

Senior nurses in our training school are in charge of the wards. This is an experience never obtained in the big hospitals where the wards are supervised by graduate nurses only.

There are just now a few vacancies in the Kingston City Hospital

"CHEWING HIS HEAD OFF"

Because He Won Bet From Fellow Employee.

The Texaco Star, a monthly magazine printed at Houston, Texas, for employees of Texas Company, which has a station in this city for the distribution of petroleum and its products, in the July number mentions W. F. Bilyou, agent at Kingston, in its honor roll of 100 per cent collection efficiency men. It also prints the following: "We understand that there is a certain 'Texacoite' at Kingston, N. Y., whose jaws are working overtime. No, we don't mean that he is trying out for a phonograph record, but he is endeavoring to use up five perfectly good pounds of Muller's chewing tobacco. The cause of the cramp in Bill McCloud's jaw is a certain bet made with Frank Kenny, also of Kingston station. When Frank took the plunge into matrimony on June 5, 1920, he rashly made a bet with Bill. A youngster was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenny on May 24, 1921, and Bill won the bet. We now know why tobacco is called 'Lucky Nicotine.' What are you going to name the little girl, Frank?"
